SUPERINTENDENT

He's a "swell guy", everyone agrees. Without his help these past two years would not have been what they were.

PRINCIPAL

Yes, he is principal and band leader too. Little jobs, and many big ones are passed on to him. He has done a great deal to raise the cultural standards of our school.

C. A. Crandell, with an AB from Nebraska State Normal, Peru, and an MA from the University of Nebraska, has served as principal and directed instrumental music in David City for three years with great success.

THE VOICE OF THE STUDENTS

Conscious of its responsibility to the school, faculty and students, the council met monthly to decide the governmental policies of the school. This year the group sponsored monthly programs and bi-monthly dances.

Don Loy, the only three-year member on the council, was president; Don Sobolik, vice president; Vaughn Jaenike, treasurer; and Jan Schweser, secretary. C. A. Crandell and Miss Lucile Hoffman acted as sponsors.

Every organization and class in school had a representative elected in September. Representatives of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes were Don Loy, Vaughn Jaenike, Janet Glock, and Tom Thomassen. Dennis Vernon and Don Sobolik represented the band and choir. Pep club and D.C. club elected Jan Schweser and Wes Hultquist. The other three members were Florence Smith, normal training; Harold Speicher, Future Farmers of America; and Dave Mize, dramatics.

ABEUNT STUDIA IN MORES

1946-1947—What a happy and eventful year! Forty-three suave, sophisticated seniors—as tradition pictures them—put the finishing touches to the last chapter of their high school careers. At last the great year had arrived when they cried out "We are the seniors!" and everyone else replied, "So What?"

Working together with a will to win resulted in the presentation of a Halloween party, Christmas program, a bang-up senior class play, January Thaw, and the initial inauguration of senior day. The seniors' lives were not all work; no indeed, they found time to "sneak" away for a day and enjoy the comradeship of their fellow classmates.

Individual caliber and unusual ability of class members was evidenced by participation in football, basketball, track, D.C. Club, pep club, phys ed, G.A.A., choir, glee club, music small-groups, speech, and F.F.A. The class boasted 10 lettermen; 3 majorettes; 1 cheerleader; and outstanding members of vocal and instrumental music.

To guide the class through this last triumphant year were Miss Nelson, Mr. Crandell, Miss Arpke, and Coach Schlichting. The class selected Frank Hanzel, president; Bob Kunert, vice president; Barbara Glock, secretary; Dennis Vernon, treasurer; and Donald Loy, student council representative.

With memories of school days and friends lingering in their minds, the seniors looked forward with anticipation to their new responsibilities and freedom.

* Taking the Regents Exams are Lov, Vernon, Glock, Schweser, Vanis, Bock, Locke, Abbott, Kobza, Mize. Mr. Crandell supervises and watches the time.

A little wiser and more dignified, fifty-one members of the sophomore class returned to David City high. There were several new faces in the class; a few familiar ones were missing, but most of that peppy group was back.

The sophomores chose Donald Lawson, class president; Morris Clemmer, vice president; Monica Beringer, secretary; Kathryn Baker, treasurer. Active Janet Glock represented the "sophs" in student council. Miss Swanson and Mr. McAlexander were advisors to the group.

The sophomores gave an informative convocation on Thanksgiving, its origin and customs, November 27.

Seven sophomores played on the varsity football team, and six of them lettered. (On fellows like these, David City fans pin their hopes for a winning season next year.)

Jim Burdick was the only tenth grader who played on the last basketball team, but most of the second team players were sophomores. These hard-fighting boys took second place honors in the Butler County tournament.

September again, and fifty-seven freshmen entered David City high. Some got in to the wrong classes, and most of the others were badly confused. However, they soon lost their shyness and were acting just like everyone else in school.

For the leaders of their class they chose John Kucera, president; George Abbott, vice president; Gilbert Kovar, secretary and treasurer. Tom Thomassen was the delegate to the student council. Miss Joan Hoffman and Mr. Burnett Vauck served as class advisors.

The "frosh" were good sportsmen in both football and basketball. A freshman football team, organized for the first time this year, brought out thirty-two boys. Playing three games, the team ended the season with one win and two losses. Five freshmen played on the varsity team, and four lettered. Fifteen boys made up the freshman basketball squad. It had a good season, winning 13 out of 16 games.

The "frosh" presented an interesting program on dogs, Feb. 18. John Kucera acted as master of ceremonies. Dr. Muriel Anderson spoke on the training of seeing-eye dogs, and Supt. Ebmeier show a film on the technique of training dogs.

On March 14, they sponsored a safety convocation. Tom Thomassen acted as M. C.; Sargent Brt, assisted by Patrolman Techman, gave a lecture on teen-age drivers and showed two interesting films on driving.

BUT TO US OURS

PUBLI

Members of the journalism class, backbone of "the scoop," look at the products of the year.

All beginnings are hard and inaugurating a journalism course has been no exception. With nine months of experience behind them, members of the class look back at six editions of the Scoop, the 1947 Scout, a state editorial winner, a reporter on the high school edition of the Daily Nebraskan, a charter to Quill and Scroll (and incidentally six charter members) and experiences never to be duplicated.

This is your SCOUT of 1947—the result of the efforts of the class to portray the activities, scholastic achievements, and daily life of the students. This is a complete picture of the year, 1946-1947 as the staff saw it.

Hidden between its colorful covers, this book, like almost every book, has a history known only to the few who had an active part in publishing it. That history started the first week of school, when the class decided to use the high school song as the theme of the '47 SCOUT. Chapter Two began with a meeting of the senior class sponsors and Miss Dobes, journalism instructor and adviser to the Scout, at which Franklin H. Mize was elected editor; Barbara Glock, assistant editor; Lillian Abbott, business manager; and John Rumery, assistant business manager. Chapter Three was the long nights spent designing each page of the annual while Chapters Four and Five included the time spent writing articles and collecting the advertising that made this book possible. Of course, space must be left for annual sales, picture week, editing, copy fitting, proof reading, and all the other little things that go into making a year book a success.

This history was completed today when you received this book. We did our best to make this a fine annual and we hope you like it. For better or for worse, here is your '47 SCOUT.

Professors Beware!

For those desiring higher education, the college preparatory course offers preliminary training for college work. This course includes two years of mathematics, two years of science, two years of foreign language, two years of social science, and three years of English.

The English Department was headed by Miss Myrtle Nelson. Her assistants were Miss Elaine Dobes and Miss Joan Hoffman.

Classes in biology, physics, and chemistry were conducted by Miss Catherine Swanson. Latin I and Latin II by Miss Dobes.

Moans and groans came from Room 10, where Mr. Burnett Vauck taught algebra, geometry and advanced algebra.

Heated were the discussions held in Miss L. Hoffman's American history classes and Mr. Walter Schlichting's world history, first semester civics, and second-semester sociology.

David City high is recognized as one of the finest schools in Nebraska and is fully accredited in the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges.

P. Zeilinger solves a geometry for B. Vauck.

M. Locke and D. Vernon gather their chemicals for a chemistry experiment.

M. Mulligan and G. Ha'n brush up on their Latin in Latin 9 class.

F. Smith and H. Kunkee get a little help from M. Nelson in English 12.

Fingers that Fly

David City boasts one of the three best equipped high school commercial departments in Nebraska.

Miss Roos conducted classes in beginning and advanced typewriting, stenography I and II, and office machines. Office practice and one semester each of bookkeeping and commercial law completed the schedule.

There were two full sections of beginning typing, and one of first year stenography. These commercial pupils prepared all typed material for every department in school.

Each year, girls are chosen from the second year class work in the offices of the superintendent and the principal. This takes the place of office practice. This year Rosemary Litgen and Barbara Glock worked for Mr. Crandell, and Marcella Kobza worked for Mr. Ebmeier.

The commercial department reflects the progress of our educational system. While learning, these students serve the school.

"GOOD MORNING, TEACHER"

A course which provides future teachers for the rural schools is normal training. This course includes junior and senior reviews—a general survey of elementary subjects taught by Miss Lucille Hoffman. Also included are two years of mathematics, three and one-half of English, one year of either biology or physiology, one year of civics and sociology, and one semester of public school music.

To complete this two-year course, successfully, all must pass the state teachers examination with an average of at least 80 per cent.

Stacking the Shelves

"We Get Out of Life in Proportion to What We Put Into It." This was one of the many familiar library signs stimulating student reading.

In the past two years, new books and magazines have been added to the library, bringing the total of books to 284 and magazines, to 67. The library's progress can be credited to Miss Lucille Hoffman, library adviser, and student assistants, Bibiana Vanis, Shirley Brogan, Kathryn Clymer, Marilyn Demuth, Jo Ann Hinds, Doris Hartman, Bette Meyersburg, Irene Hinze, Mary Ann Mulligan, Betty Remmers, Martha Rezac, and Phyllis Zeilinger.

S. Brogan, M. A. Mulligan, B. Vanis check over the books in the library.

"I SMELL SOMETHING BURNING"

Throughout the year, many aromas wafted up the stairs from the home economics kitchen where the future homemakers brewed concoctions under the direction of Miss Helen Mortensen. The girls also sewed and worked on the problems of good grooming.

Top: Dale Tenny explains tables manners to Peggy Beckius as Miss Mortensen looks on approvingly.

Vocational homemaking in David City high is a three year course. The first year class learns elementary principals of grooming, getting along with others, cooking, and sewing; and the advanced class undertakes special projects. During the holiday seasons the girls made novelty tree decorations, home-made candles, and stuffed toys.

The highlight of the second-year class was the school board dinner given November 4. The advanced class made a field trip to Lincoln, October 12, to observe the storage and selling of clothing. On April 22, the girls presented their spring style show to conclude their sewing units. To relieve their minds from their cooking and sewing the girls went on a hike, Nov. 4.

Vocational agriculture was introduced into David City high this year. Mr. Earl Walter taught forty boys interested in agriculture. In addition, one veteran enrolled for a six-week's graduate course under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

F.F.A. officers were Lowell Glock, president; Harold Speicher, vice president; Robert Meysenburg, secretary; La Verne Kozicek, treasurer; Norval Hoeft, reporter; and Richard Moran, sentinel.

The boys sponsored a conservation tour, farmers-day exhibit, barn dance, parent-son banquet, and a district F.F.A. meeting. Representatives attended a national F.F.A. meeting at Seward, marketing day in Omaha, state judging contest in Lincoln, and the state F.F.A. convention at North Platte. The boys have saved enough money to finance a week's trip to the Bellwood Lakes this summer.

THE CRAFTSMEN

Assistant Coach, Robert McAlexander, taught twenty-seven students in beginning and twenty-four in advanced shop.

The primary objective of the beginning class was to become acquainted with various wood-working tools and to learn more of the basic principles of handworking.

The object of the advanced class was to learn to use the power jointer, grinders, tilting arbor, circular saw, scroll saw, band saw, drill press, and the turning lathe.

Just Passing Through

Many students have entered high school with no particular vocation in mind. To them, the general course offers a basic high school education. A student taking the general course gets sixteen of his credits from three years of English, one year of mathematics, one year of science and one year of social studies. He obtains his other required credits through electives.

Mr. MacAlexander watches as H. Deford rips a board on the new table saw.

H. Deford uses the scroll saw in the down-town shop.

Ah, Richard Welker knows the answer in American History.

"Hey, turn out the lights!" Miss Swanson uses the projector in the visual aids room.

THE PLAY'S THE THING

The cast of the one act play, "No Greater Love," halts its performance for a picture. Jeonette Schweser, Marilyn Demuth, Martha Rezac, Franklin Mize, John Rumery.

"I killed him!" exclaims Tom Keating as Don Sobolik, Don Jones, Marcella Kobza, and Gladys Kovar look at the dying John Moran in horror, in the play, "Just Underneath."

Fortunately seven eager boys turned out to do their best to make the "Play the Thing" this year. The beginning students learned fundamentals of acting, memorized poetry, practiced vocational exercises and choral readings, and finally presented short skits. Miss Nelson's advanced class worked on pantomime and make-up the first semester. Both groups participated in the Christmas program.

Each pupil recorded his voice twice during the year, once, to find his faults, and next, to see his improvements.

The advanced group presented two fine comedies, "Aunt Miranda's Will" and "Super Cupid". Immediately following this, they worked out the serious plays, "Just Underneath" and "No Greater Love."

During this year, the dramatics department provided outstanding entertainment for the school and community.

"Get it on straight," cautions Miss Nelson as Marilyn Demuth practices making up Don Jones. Donald Sobolik stands by to help.

In the Social Whirl

Students at DCHS were plunged into the rush of the social season as early as September 24, when the student council sponsored the first high school party.

On January 28, the FFA threw a barn dance in the gym. Gingham, calico, and denim, were ordered as suitable garb for the affair. The Schuyler FFA were present as guests. After a strenuous session of square dancing, the crowd was entertained by the German band under the direction of John Kucera. Later, they danced to the rhythms of Artie Crandell.

The Pep club sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins' dance, November 19. Gals escorted the fellas and showed all the correct gentlemanly courtesies. The evening was highlighted by the presentation of Tom Reinhardt and Mary Anne Locke as Scout Boy and Girl.

The juniors entertained at a Christmas party, December 17. Following a red and green motif. Artie Crandell's ork played for dancing, and a short program was given during intermission.

All hail the King and Queen! Wesley Hultquist and Bonnie Jenkins, basketball king and queen, survey the multitude from their royal throne.

The 1946 Scout Girl and Boy (Mary Anne Locke and Thomas Reinhardt) reigned over the annual football party sponsored by the pep club.

The Basketball Banquet, April 15, was entirely different this year; it followed a carnival theme. Wesley Hultquist and Bonnie Jenkins were presented on a float as Basketball King and Queen.

On May 3, crowning all social events, the juniors entertained approximately 130 people at the Junior-Senior banquet. Following a spring garden theme, white picket fences and flowers banked the side walls. The center floor was graced by a small pool, with rock and flower trimmings. Individual tables surrounded the pool. The pillars were decorated with blue and white crepe paper.

Toastmaster Don Sobolik introduced the following program: welcome by John Moran and a response by Frank Hanzel; songs by Jean Martin; piano selections by Dave Mize; address by H. C. Ebmeier; reading by Don Jones; and selections by a boys' quartet; Moran, Jaenike, Keating, Sobolik. Don Sobolik discoursed on the "Music of Life."

These were the main events in this social year. There were others, less important, which we also hold in memory. All the hard work, planning and scheming gave us a unity and fellowship hitherto unexperienced.

Daisy Mae (L. Ludwick) finally caught her man (Joe Mally) at the Sadie Hawkins dance.

GRIDIRON

"We're on the upward trail," may well be the theme song of the 1946 football team. From the record made by the Scouts in '46, David City fans can, at last, look forward to a winning team. Perhaps we were not altogether successful from the standpoint of games won, but our record proves that we are coming out of the cellar.

This year, we made 107 points to our opponents 204. Considering previous years, this is a decided moral victory. Wes Hultquist collected 56 points; Tom Keating 31.

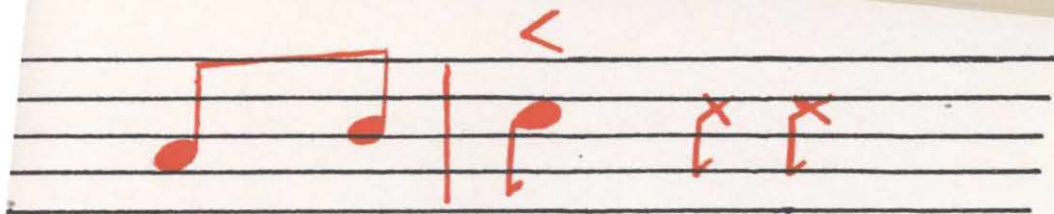

David City was well represented on the Central Five Honor Roll. Among the first 22 players selected for the Central Five Conference Team were Wes Hultquist, half back; Bob Davis, guard; and Tom Reinhardt, end. Eugene Riha, guard, received honorable mention.

NOTES

Under the capable guidance of Coaches Schlichting and McAlexander, the team emerged from the season's battles almost unscathed by injury.

It wasn't all work, either; the fellows will always remember their locker room days. Good fellowship prevailed in both victory and defeat. This fellowsrip carried through to the football field and resulted in good team work. The boys can remember this year as a step in the right direction, and without a doubt they will see the foundation which they have laid, develop into an outstanding team. Just for the record, here are the scores:

Our second team played four scheduled games which was valuable experience in preparing them for future first team work. Many of the boys substituted on the first team throughout the season. This group worked diligently and is especially proud having held Columbus to a scoreless game.

Coach Schlichting's pet project was the freshman squad which inaugurated this year. Twice a week, these eager boys could be seen doing calisthenics on the practice field at three games; York 6, D. C. 0, Columbus 13, D.C. 0, Wahoo 19, D.C. 20.

CAGE CHATTER

Our opponents were dumbfounded when they met the crimson and black. There was a certain air of mysticism in our losing to a weak team one game, and giving a good team a run for it's money the next. We took third place in the Central Five Conference by sailing past Aurora and Fullerton. The district tournament, however, was too much for us, and Wahoo defeated us, 32-24.

During the past season we lost to Brainard, College View, and Clarkson by the narrow margins of 2 or 3 points. These unlucky breaks badly demoralized us, but we managed, gradually, to overcome the feeling of depression.

Our first team ran into one of its cold streaks during the Butler County tournament and we were greatly humiliated when Marietta trounced us in two consecutive games. Now we can look back and see our mistakes with one consolation—that our future cagesters may profit by them.

Our pride and joy was the second squad which took second place in the Butler County tournament. We breezed past Ulysses and Brainard but our winning streak came to a halt when Assumption overwhelmed us by a score of 19-6. The second place trophy which we won, was presented to the school, on behalf of the team, by Don Danaher. Our record shows an average of 50 per cent of the games won. We believe our achievements make up somewhat for the first team losses and we are proud of the prowess in basketball which we have demonstrated.

We watched the freshmen with anticipation this year. They took top honors with a record of 15 wins and only 4 defeats. Twice they came back to defeat Schuyler and Wahoo after being trounced by them previously. In the Freshman invitational they took third place by defeating Ashland and Stromsburg but unfortunately they fell to Columbus in the second round of the tournament. Anxious to make good, these lads tried hard and pulled together against their opponents. These are the boys who will comprise the winning teams of the future. Watch them!

HERE THEY COME! HERE

Here They Come! Here They Are! There They Go!

This season the mercury-heeled boys of D. C. H. S. have been running against stiff competition. In the quad meet at David City, April 17, the Scouts placed fourth; they did the same on April 25, in the Central Five meet. The juniors led the field in interclass competition, April 12.

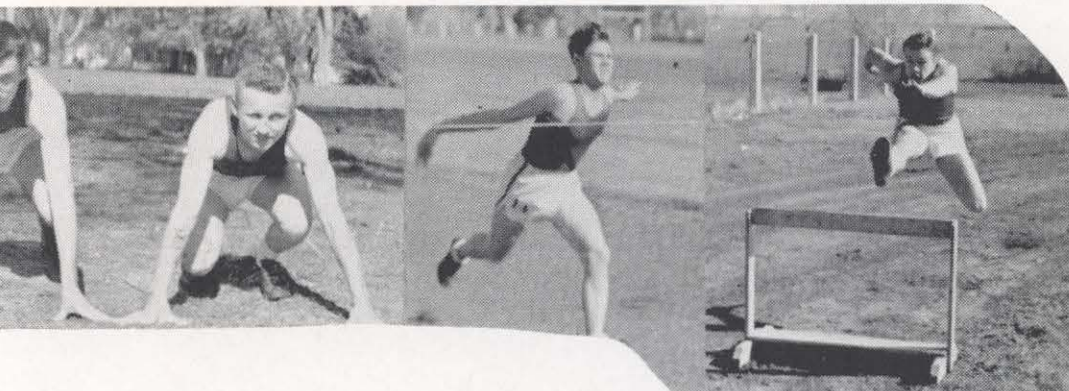

Top left in oval: "It's on your marks—get set—go!" for N. Muntz, W. Hultquist, N. Hoeft, J. Knott, Eugene Riha, T. Keating, and J. Kucera. Bob Davis breaks the string with a flying leap. W. Hultquist clears a low hurdle.

THEY ARE! THERE THEY GO!

Coach Schlichting's boys came out on top in the Butler County tournament in May.

Lettermen for the season are Eugene Riha, Wes Hultquist, Tom Keating, John Kucera, Norval Hoeft, John Knott, Norman Muntz, and Frank Hanzel, John Rumery, managers

Lower left in oval: Knott and Cambell skim the high hurdles in a dead heat in the Central Five Meet. Kucera brings up the rear in the 220 with Bob Henk of Central City in the lead. Hultquist knocks down the last hurdle as he and Cambell (Central City) pound down the cinders neck to neck. Student Manager J. Rumery doesn't look too satisfied.

Boys' Phys. Ed.

If you wandered into the gym on Tuesday or Thursday between 8:00 and 10:00 A. M., 2:00 and 3:00 P. M., or on Wednesday after school, you saw the future athletes of David City in action. Fifty-five boys in the seventh to ninth grades participated in such competitive games, as touch football, basketball, and track. Calisthenics and tumbling were also a part of the course.

Athletic lettermen comprise the D. C. Club. The group helps sponsor rallies and parties and climaxes its season with a spring initiation.

1946-47 president was Tom Reinhardt, vice president, John Knott, secretary-treasurer, Bob Davis.

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON

The beat of drums, a blast of trumpets, then a flash of scarlet uniforms against the cool green of the gridiron. That was the greeting given to David City fans last fall during the halves of the football games. Drum major, Johnny Moran and our four sparkling majorettes, Mary Ann Locke, Bonnie Jenkins, Lillian Abbott, and Rosemary Litjen, led the forty-eight piece marching band.

Band officers elected at the beginning of this year were, Franklin Mize, president; John Kucera, vice president; Richard Welker, secretary and treasurer; and Dennis Vernon, student council representative.

To help cheer our teams to victory during the basketball season, a snappy pep band of twenty members and student director, Franklin Mize, played our school and traditional songs.

Soloists rating superior at the District 11 music contest were, Dennis Vernon, saxophone; Kathryn Baker, French horn. John Kucera, Baritone and Frank Mize, clarinet, won excellent. Tom Reinhardt's trumpet solo rated good.

Much of the credit falls to our director, Mr. C. A. Crandall.

The last period of the day rolled around, and from the vocal music room floated the opening strains of "On wings of song I'll take thee." Girls in glee were having one of their music sessions.

Boys' and girls' glee, the senior chorus, triple trio, and junior choir participated in the annual Christmas program.

The highlight of the year was the music clinic, sponsored by the vocal classes on March 28, with David B. Foltz, assistant instructor of music at the University of Nebraska, directing. Participating with David City in the day's activities were Ulysses and Brainard. After rehearsing and criticizing the choir, girls' glee, solos, and small groups, Mr. Foltz conducted the concert that evening at the municipal auditorium. The mixed octet, organized at mid-term, was one of the small groups chosen to sing at the evening concert.
