PROLOGUE

The staff of the 1951 SCOUT has preserved the many incidents which occurred during the current school year in the David City High School, during three seasons, Fall, Winter, and Spring.

The brown tone is symbolic of the fall season, with the changing of nature's colors, the blue-black of the cold dark nights of the winter season, and the green with the coming of spring.

FALL

H. C. EBMEIER

Superintendent H. C. Ebmeier is serving his sixth year as the "SKIPPER" of David City High School.

Mr. Ebmeier has a Bachelor of Arts degree in social studies, science, and physical education.

He also has a Master of Arts degree in school administration from the University of Nebraska.

B. E. VAUCK

The principal of David City High School, B. E. Vauck, is also the sponsor of the senior class.

Mr. Vauck has a Bachelor of Science degree in school administration from the University of Nebraska.

David City Public Schools considers itself fortunate to have on its school board such able leaders as Dr. D. E. Burdick, president; Mrs. V. D. Friis, vice-president; Harold Zinnecker, secretary; and H. H. Schaaf, Mrs. B. Smith and Charles Vasina, as board members.

The school board members have a broad interest in education, students' well-being, and welfare of all within their district. The board, at all times, keeps in mind the opportunities available to boys and girls outside of the district who wish to avail themselves of the use of these opportunities.

Mrs. Agnes Friis and Dr. D. E. Burdick admire the new refrigerator in the home economics kitchen.

H. H. Schaaf and Harold L. Zinnecker test the new Universal stove in the home economics kitchen.

Charles Vasina and Mrs. B. Smith turn to a different phase of their duties, discussion of the high school agricultural program.

FOOTBALL

Coach John Rumbaugh piloted his David City Scouts to their second straight Central Eight Conference Crown with seven wins, one loss and one tie. The Scouts' only setback of the season came from the hands of Crete, 19-6. The David City Scouts rolled through the season with a total of 194 points to their opponents' 92.

City griddier picked for the Class B All State first team, but Norman Coufal, quarterback, and Jack Gilmore, end, were placed on the second team.

For the second consecutive year the Scouts have been listed among the top ten teams in the state. David City was placed in eighth spot by Gregg McBride's Omaha World Herald chart.

Second row: Ivan Rerucha, Burdette Sabata, Alvin Osmera, Fred Bock, Melvin McElravy, Adrian Zima, Dennis Jacob, Bob Glock and Coach John Rumbaugh.

Third row: Joe Proskovec, Dick Wood, Don Hamsa, Wayne Fyle, Bill Peters, Duane Svoboda, Dean Glock and Bill Hoeft.

The freshman and second teams could also boast of their fine football season. The freshmen coached by Kent Ryan and Kenneth Shuck, managed to win two of their four scheduled games. Assistant Coach Kent Ryan was called to duty in the Marine Air Force in the middle of the season.

Officers of the student council were: Verone Gibb, president; Walter Svoboda, vice president; Eileen Kelso, secretary, and Carlin Jacob, treasurer. B. E. Vauck, principal, served as sponsor.

HOME ECONOMICS

Peggy Murphy takes cookies out of the new Universal oven, while Dorothy Buckley stirs fudge.

Jo Ann Jostes and Wilma Svoboda complete their sewing unit.

Under the able instruction of Miss Elaine Ludden, many things were done in the home-making department.

Two new stoves and a refrigerator were purchased for the home economics kitchen.

Besides the sewing and cooking various other projects were carried out that were impossible to carry out in class.

The Future Homemakers of America officers for the year were Joan Anderson, Henrietta Svoboda, Donna Scribner, Mary Beth Moran, Jo Carolyn Kroeger, Peggy McElravy, and Donna Wadkins. Plans were made for a covered dish dinner, a freshman tea, a waist-line dinner, a "hard-time" dance, F.H.A. Junior Degree tests, meetings and Parliamentary Procedure.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

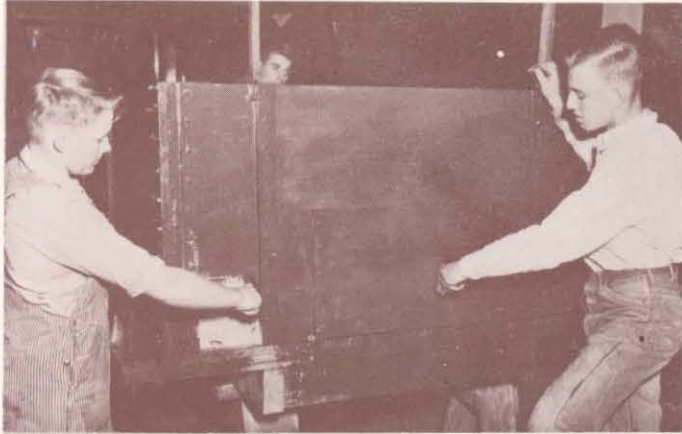

Rose Marie Rech and Mary Beth Moran admire the cake they made for an F.H.A. party.

FUTURE FARMERS

One of the largest classes at David City High School, the vocational agriculture department is drawing the attention of many students.

Along with vocational agriculture classes, the students have an organization, the Future Farmers of America. The F.F.A. is self-supporting and run by the members in the chapter. In the chapter there are 61 members now enrolled.

The F.F.A. had the concession rights at football games. The group also made and sold hog troughs. They also sold greeting cards to raise funds for the organization as a money-raising project.

With the money the organization made, they took a trip last summer through western Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming.

SCHOOL

SERVICES

Custodians, Ervin Rerucha, and Roy Welte, pause from their duties to finish decorating the Christmas tree in the study hall.

Robert Doner uses the anti-freeze gauge to see if the school bus meets specifications for winter weather.

"How does the food taste, boys?"

Through the combined efforts of Roy Welte, Bob Doner, Ervin Rerucha, John Tomek, and Fred Stafford the school is kept clean and orderly.

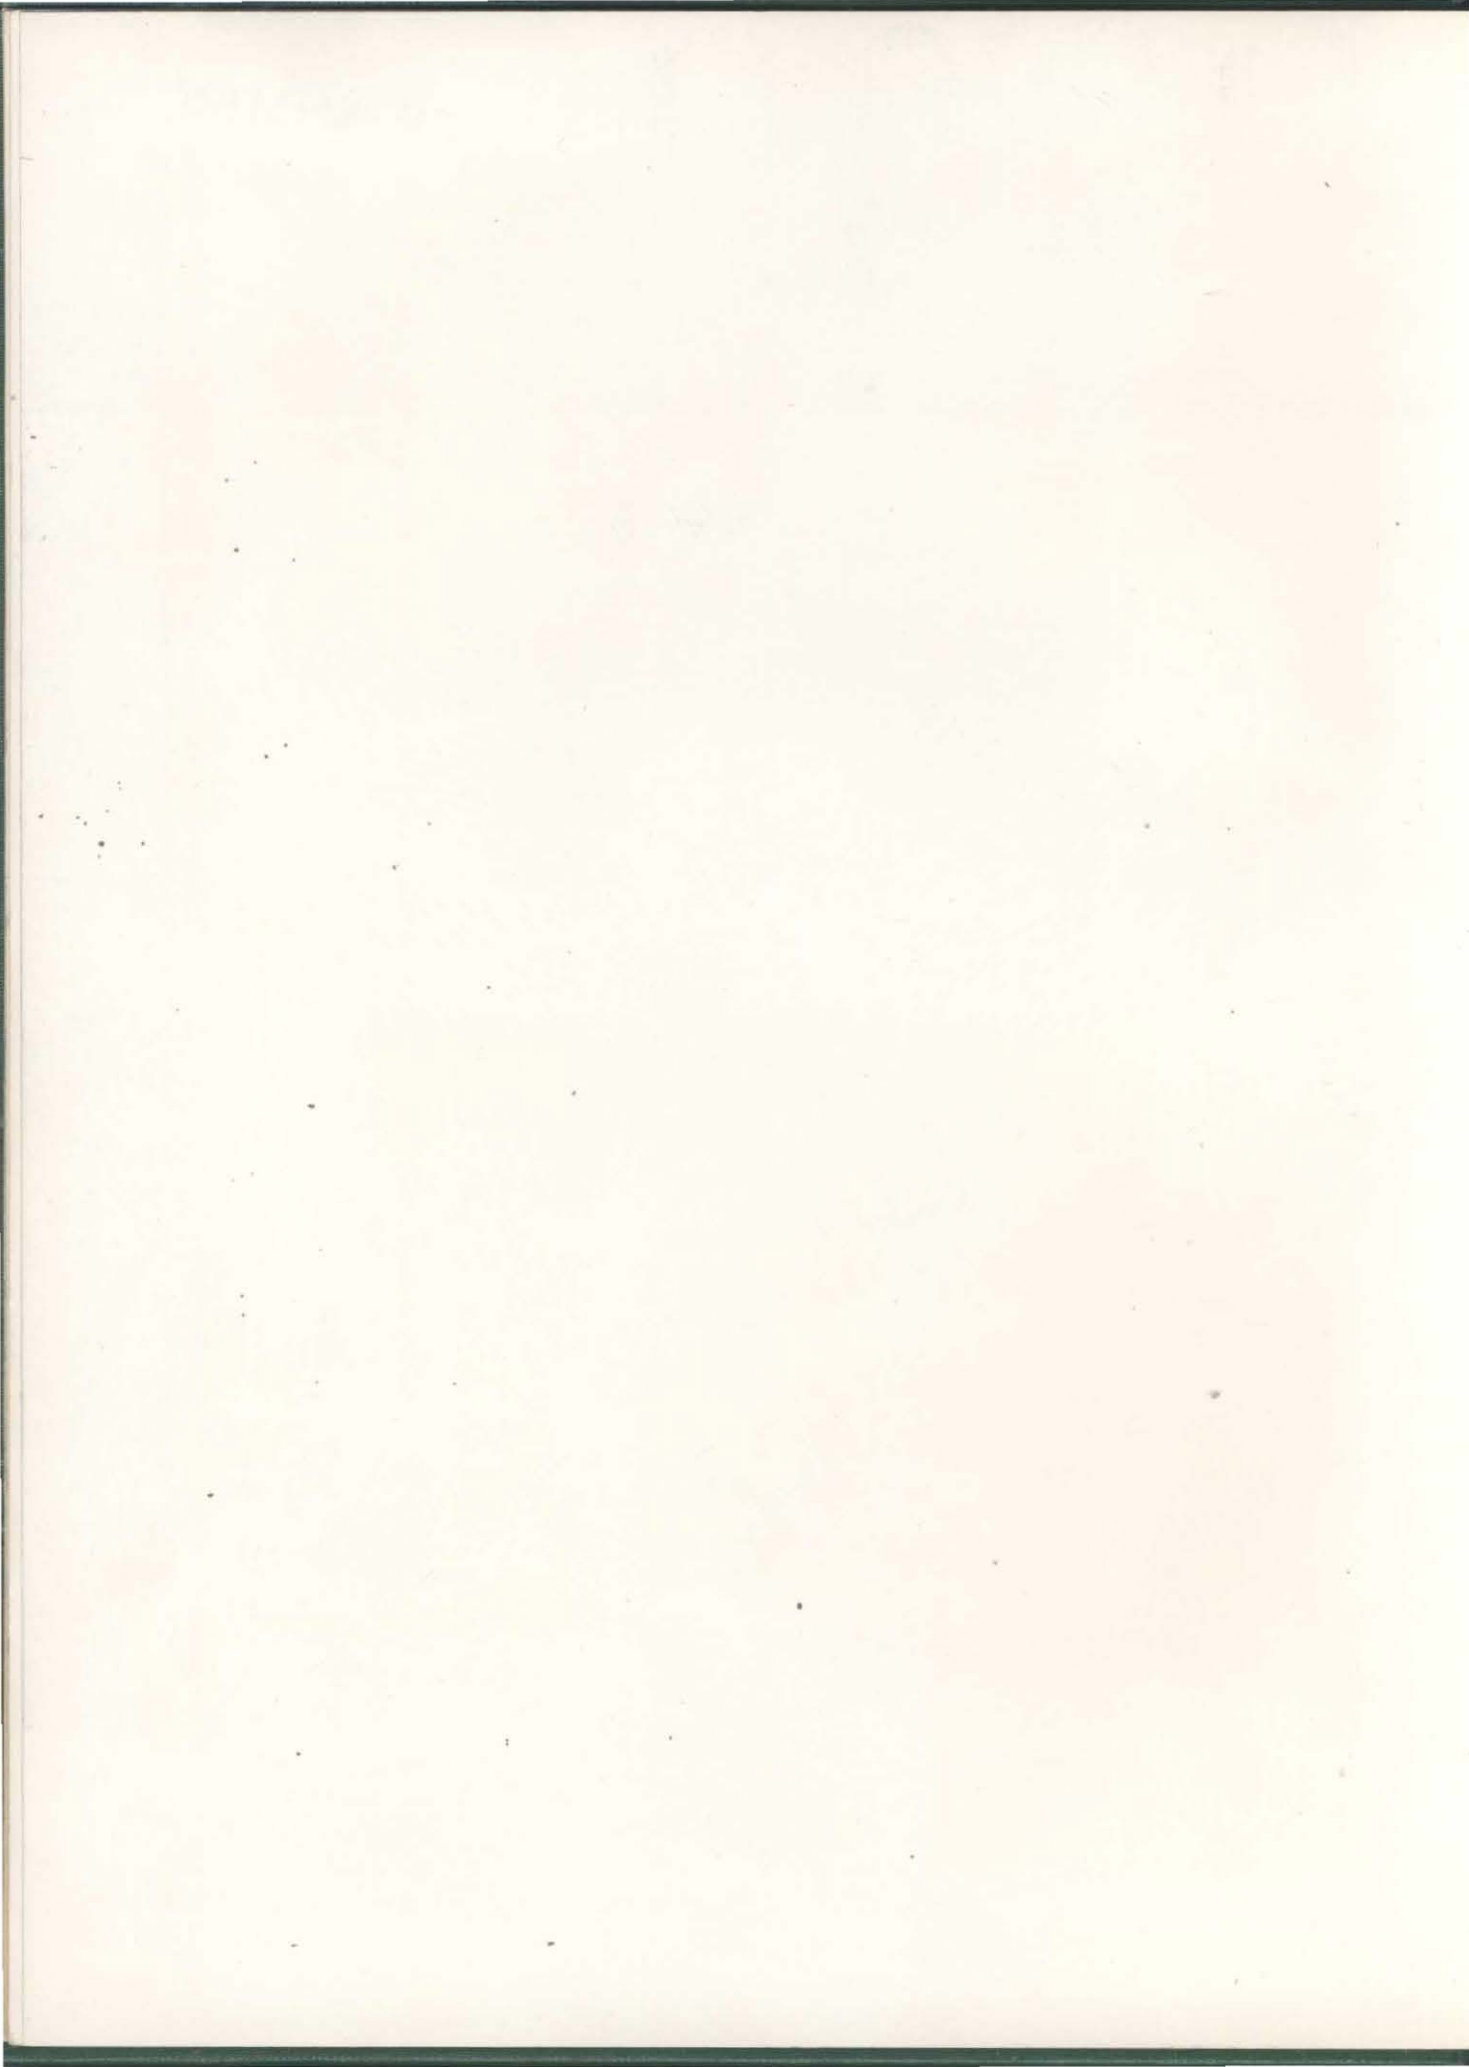

Other school services include transportation to and from school and to the out-of-town games. This is furnished by the bus drivers,

Fred Stafford, John Tomek, Ervin Rerucha and Bob Doner.

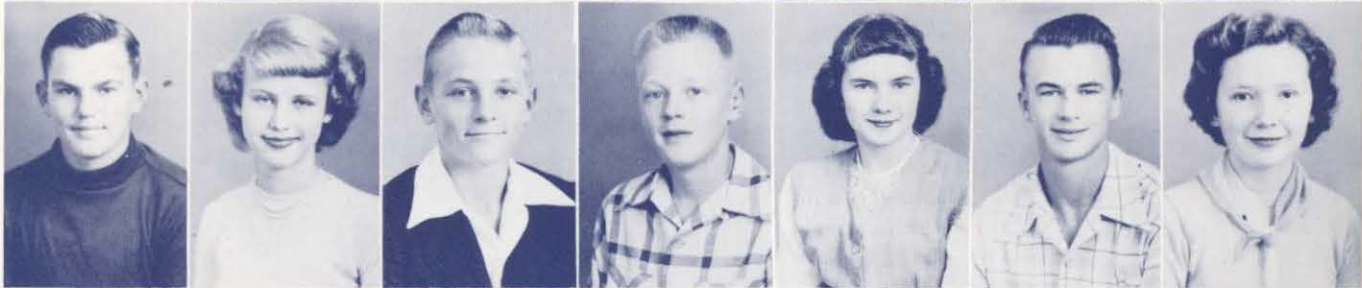

Approximately 150 meals a day are prepared by Mrs. Vern Blevins and Mrs. John Tomek for the David City High School students in the last, but probably the most important school service.

Under the leadership of their class officers, the juniors completed many successful activities this year. The class officers were president, Martha Glock; vice-president, Kenneth Johnson; secretary, Norma Johnson, and treasurer, Norman Coufal.

The group sponsored a class play, "Leave to Marry," with a cast of four girls and two boys.

Ten juniors were nominated to participate in County Government Day on Oct. 19 at the Butler County Courthouse. Primary and general elections were held to determine who would take part.

The participants were Leo Meister, judge; Mary Ann Marushak, superintendent; Verone Gibb, attorney; Norma Johnson, assessor; Maxine Klein, county clerk; Maxine Martin, treasurer; Kenneth Johnson, clerk of the district court; Norman Coufal, sheriff; Martha Glock and Leo Kovar, commissioners.

COMMERCIAL TRAINING

Darlene Aerts operates the electric typewriter while JoAnn Howe observes.

Willette Sima pecks away at her assignment on the calculator.

Miss Edith Roos' steno II students pause a moment from their class work to give the photographer their "Pepsodent smiles."

The commercial students in the machines room are never idle. The banging and clicking of the machines continue on through the long day.

The director of this busy commercial department is Miss Edith Roos. This commercial course consists of machines, bookkeeping, steno I and steno II.

When the girls leave this commercial training, they have a good knowledge of what office work consists and are prepared for a position in the business world.

The machines class this year was one of the largest ever conducted by Miss Roos. This year has increased the number of electrical machines to eleven. A new dictaphone and electric typewriter have been added.

These girls are always the early birds in school in the morning, but the last ones to leave at night. The commercial students have spent many trying and tiresome, but happy hours in the commercial room.

Junior normal trainers Connie Votava, Maxine Klein, Libbie Palik, Peggy McElravy, and Wilma Nuebel show Pat McFarland some doll-house furniture in the home-life unit.

Martha Stara, Joyce Meizgar, Letha Nozicka, Miss Lucile Hoffman, instructor, Mary Kozisek, and Rosalie Zegers review what they learned at the Butler County Reading Workshop.

NORMAL TRAINING

The 10 normal trainers under the watchful eye of Miss Lucile Hoffman have been busy "whipping up" projects to use during their days of teaching.

Together the girls made and furnished a playhouse to use in the primary grades, and each girl made a dollhouse and various picture booklets.

The senior normal trainers spent much of their second semester practice teaching.

This is required by Nebraska law before the potential teachers can obtain a school.

The national organization of normal trainers is known as the Future Teachers of America.

Activities of the F. T. A. for the year included various dinners and a skating party.

The David City High School F. T. A. officers are Letha Nozicka, president; Mary Kozisek, vice-president; Libbie Palik, secretary; Connie Votava, treasurer; and Maxine Klein, news reporter.

Martha Stara is shown practice teaching the third grade science class.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Norma Johnson and Maxine Martin try to keep trim figures by exercising in girls' gym.

Mrs. Helen Wollen takes Henrietta Svoboda's pulse and temperature as LaDonna Voboril looks on.

MANUAL TRAINING

Busy at work in the shop are Elmer Grubaugh and Wayne Fyfe.

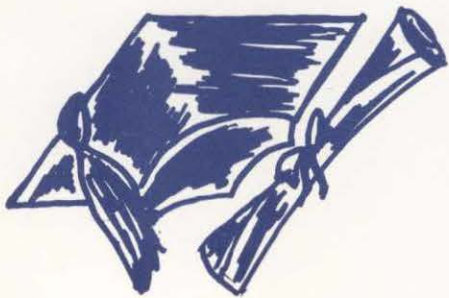

Don Kilgore begins work on a table leg on the wood turning lathe.

Assistant coach, Kenneth Shuck, has taken over the manual training duties left by Kent Ryan at David City High School.

The industrial arts program was re-established in 1945 after a seven-year lapse of time. Walter Schlichting taught the course at that time.

The course can be taken for two years and consists of beginning and advanced wood working. The shop will be turned into a three-year course in the next few years. Many new electric and hand tools have been added to make many skilled jobs possible.

General and College Preparatory Courses

J. V. Nicodemus and Mrs. Elda Hansen watch as Patty Mulligan points out interesting Roman pictures in Latin 9.

Subjects taken for the general course usually include English, mathematics, typing, shop, science, and home making.

Two of the main courses at David City High School are the general and college preparatory courses. David City High School is an accredited member of the North Central Association. The school complies fully with state regulations governing entrance requirements to the state university and state colleges.

The college preparatory course includes four years of English, two years of mathematics, two years of a foreign language and a course in social studies and science. Algebra, geometry and advanced algebra are some of the mathematics courses available in the college preparatory course.

World history, American history, civics, and sociology are the subjects offered in the social studies department, while the science courses include biology, physics, and chemistry.

The general course is designed for the student that does not plan to go to college, but who has not decided as yet on his life work. The course presents a diversified program of courses designed to give a wide and varied educational background to the student.

Jack Lang points out some hot spots of the world in the international relations class as Mr. Willis Moreland, Mark Sauser, and Dona Gans check their history books.

Walt Svoboda and Jo Kroeger study the structure of the human eye in biology lab.

Under the makeup, being applied by Joan Anderson, is Norma Johnson getting ready for the junior class play.

The dramatics department of the David City High School has had a very busy year.

Mr. Willard Lally helped the speech students through the year in their dramatic attempts.

The junior class play, "Leave To Marry," consisted of a cast of four girls and two boys. They were Carlin Jacob, Norma Johnson, Janice Welker, Martha Glock, Lea Schlentz and Kenneth Johnson. The play was given at the David City Municipal Auditorium November 14 and 15.

Posing for the photographer are the junior class play cast members, Janice Welker, Norma Johnson, Ken Johnson, Carlin Jacob, Lea Schlentz, and Martha Glock.

Lea Schlentz, Martha Glock, Janice Welker, and Norma Johnson try to revive Ken Johnson in a rehearsal scene from the junior play, who fainted when he heard he was to be married.

Other activities included a senior class play and a contest play. The contest play was entitled, "The Pink Dress." The District II Speech Contest attended by the David City High School students was held at the University of Omaha, March 4.

The students also had a chance to gain experience in doing prompting, make-up, sound effects, lighting, and helping direct the plays. A group of students took part in the speech festival at the University of Nebraska.

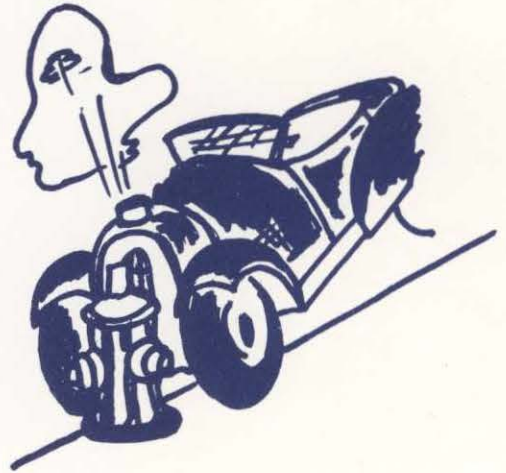

Ben Zinnecker records speech lines while other speech students, Joan Anderson and Donna Martin, assist him.

DRIVERS' TRAINING

John Tomek shows Darlene Rathjen how to change a tire on the drivers' training car.

The 1950-51 school year was the third year that the drivers' training program was in operation in David City High School. Fifty-two drivers were trained. A total of 123 drivers were trained the first two years that the program operated.

The two parts of the program are the classroom studies and the driving practice training. "Man and the Motor Car" and the "Drivers' Manual" were the two books used in the classroom part of the program. Ellis Mercer and John Tomek did an excellent job of managing the program. Mercer did the classroom work and Tomek had charge of driving practice as he has had the two previous years.

Nearly all of the 52 students who took the course were enrolled for credit. The drivers' training course has many aims in the program. To instill safety foremost in the student's mind is the most important aim. Three other aims are: (1) To develop a social attitude toward driving, (2) To give a foundation for sound judgment on the part of the driver, and (3) To teach the student how to operate a car in a safe, scientific proven manner.

Deeply interested in the explanation of the internal combustion engine by Mr. Ellis Mercer, drivers' training instructor, are Verone Gibb and Marledeen Lanspa.

Drivers' training instructors Mr. Ellis Mercer and John Tomek greet Sergeant Harry Brt, from the state patrol department, and local patrolman, Ed Porter.

Under the firm coaching hand of John Rumbaugh, the David City Scouts won their first Class B state championship in history to climax the season that saw the Scouts win 18 and lose four.

The Scouts surprised many people as they ended the cage schedule with the highest honors in the state Class B cage division.

The Scouts held second place honors in the Central Eight Conference before losing to Albion 45-55 in the final game of the season.

Two of the saddest defeats of the season were to Schuyler and Albion. The Scouts lost to Schuyler 42-43 while Albion clipped them 45-55. The Scouts gained revenge in the district tournament as they dropped Albion 48-23.

Doyle Fyfe was the team's top scoring ace while Norman Coufal and Jack Gilmore copped second and third place honors.

The Scouts were placed number one in the top ten of the Lincoln Journal and placed number one in the Omaha World Herald's top ten.

Doyle Fyfe was placed on the all-tournament team by the World-Herald and was named to the class B all-tournament team by the Herald, Journal and Star newspapers, to name just a few.

Norman Coufal, Jack Gilmore and Jerry Kroeger also came in for numerous honors by the state cage experts.

SPRING

SENIORS

The fall of '47 saw 83 freshmen wandering throughout the building. Officiating for the class that year was the president, Jack Lang; vice-president, Donna Martin; secretary-treasurer, Bill Peters; and student council representative, Don Johnson. This class was the largest enrolled at David City High School for many years.

An outstanding event of the sophomore year was a sight-seeing tour of Lincoln which the class received for winning an inter-class ticket-selling contest. This included a tour through the State Capitol Building, the Nebraska State Penitentiary, and Morrill Hall. Officers that season were Judy Richards, president; Ben Zinnecker, vice-president; Norma Armagost, secretary; Carole Vanderkolk, treasurer; with Phyllis Blevins, John Lang, and Doyle Fyfe serving on the student council.

Highlighting the junior year events were the junior class play, entitled, "Oh Father," and the spring banquet given for the senior class. The play had an all-girl cast with the exception of father who was portrayed by a different local businessman each night. Dick Wrede and Edgar Thomas portrayed "Father." The banquet, carried out in a Hawaiian motif, used the theme "Aloha" throughout the affair.

Elected president that fall was Donna Martin, assisted by vice-president, Jack Lang; secretary, Phyllis Blevins; and treasurer, Don Johnson. Serving as student council members were Ben Zinnecker, Don Hopwood, Barbara Michael, and Lois Gibson.

Jack Gilmore, John Lang, Mr. B. E. Vauck, Mr. Willis Moreland, La Dellys Vrana, and Lois Gibson make plans for "Sneak Day."

The season of '50-'51 found the seniors participating in many activities. Sneak day, senior teas, the banquet, as well as music, sports, speech, journalism, and pep club took up much of their time. The senior girls were entertained at a tea given by the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday, Feb. 15, and by the P. E. O. at a later date.

Senior class officers were Jack Lang, president; Jack Gilmore, vice-president; Lois Gibson, secretary; and La Dellys Vrana, treasurer. Student council representatives were Arlene Fricke, Barbara Michael, Ben Zinnecker, Jerry Kroeger, and Jack Gilmore.

CHOIR

The David City High School choir and small groups had a busy year with their many activities during the 1950-1951 term. Mrs. Phyllis Moreland*ably directed the performances made by the department.

The major goal the choir achieved this year was the acquiring of new red and black choir robes which were made by the mothers of the choir members. Material for the 65 robes was purchased by the Board of Education.

A Christmas program was presented by the vocal department at a school assembly on December 22. On March 20, the local music clinic was held at the high school in preparation for the district contest. In the evening a concert program was presented in which the choir robes were displayed for the first time.

The biggest event of the year was the district music contest held at Fremont on April 13 and 14. Participants in the contest included the choir, girls' glee, madrigal, sextette, triple trio, boys' quartet, and several solos.

Other activities of the choir include singing for commencement exercises and small group appearances many times throughout the year for various organizations.

The officers who served the choir were president, Leo Kovar; vice-president, Carole Vanderkolk; secretary-treasurer, Dona Gans; sergeant-at-arms, Russell Wood.

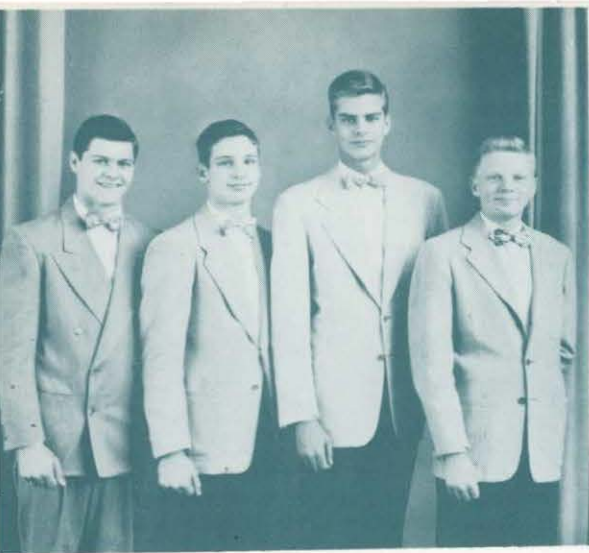

Bottom row (left to right): Ronald Hoback, Mrs. Phyllis Moreland and J. V. Nicodemus.

Second row: Jo Ann Howe, Mary Lou Polacek, Norma Nichols, Marilu Thomassen, Michael McFarland, Keith Gooseman, Kenneth Klingemann, Donald Mahlin, Francis Piller, Donald Armagost, Evelyn Kucera, Peggy Murphy, Carole Vanderkolk and Phyllis Blevins.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

Under the direction of Orval Graham, the band had a successful season during the 1950-51 school year. Officers for the organization included Michael Johnson, president; Noel McIntosh, vice-president; Janice Welker, secretary; Dorothy Buckley, treasurer, and Tom Darrow, librarian.

The band, led by Drum Majorette, Lois Gibson, marched at the "State Fair," "The Harvest of Harmony" at Grand Island, and the University of Nebraska's "Band Day." The band received an "A" rating at the Nebraska University affair. This group also played at the Butler County Fair.

The concert band presented two winter concerts. The first was presented on Feb. 4 and the second on March 4. The band took part in the district music contest at Fremont. A few small groups and soloists also took part in the contest.

Senior band personnel include:

Trumpets: Donald Armagost, Phyllis Blevins, Valerian Bohaty, Marcella Hast, Ronald Hockback, Norma Jean Howe, Donald Johnson, Noel McIntosh, and Darlene Vraspir.

Horns: Maxine Klein and Clara Reisdorff.

Baritones: Betty Bock, Lois Jean Hinze, and Leo Kovar.

Basses: Kenneth Klingemann, Milton Smid, and Eva Welker.

Saxophones: Grayce Ann Allen, Miles Andel, Donald Dworak, Harvey Homolka, Gene Remmers, Donna Scribner, Carole Vanderkolk, and Ben Zinnecker.

Trombones: Tom Barlean, Leland Chambers, Wallace Haight, Michael Johnson, John Klosterman, Jim McGurk, and John Wert.

Bells: Nancy Lonn.

Drums: Tom Darrow, J. V. Nicodemus, Marilyn Sargent, Mark Sauser, Lea Schlentz, and Marilu Thomassen.

Flutes: Betty Clymer, Martha Glock, Peggy Murphy, and Janice Welker.

Majorettes: Norma Armagost, Janice Blevins, Dona Ganis, Marvel Lee Garrison, Eileen Kelso, Marcie Jo Nicodemus, and Dawn Widle.

Drum Majorette: Lois Gibson.

The saxophone quartet, Don Dworak, Ben Zinnecker, Grace Allen, and Carole Vanderkolk practice for the music contest.

Mr. Graham directs David Friis, Charles Baker, Robert Glock, and Paul Engler as they practice their baritones.

The pep band bursts forth with strains of a school song at the Aurora basketball game.

TRACK

Doyle Fyle, David City's weights ace, demonstrates the correct follow-through form needed to heave the 12-pound shot.

Second row: Assistant Coach, Kenneth Shuck, Harold Bonne, Bill Peters, Alfred Bongers, Doyle Fyle, Jack Gilmore, Leroy Smith, Verone Gibb, Carlin Jacob, and Coach John Rumbaugh.

LIBRARY

Head librarian, La Donna Voboril, checks in a new book for the David City High School library.

The David City High School library was started by Miss Lucile Hoffman in 1945 with 50 books.

The library now has 2,250 books. Three hundred and seventy-five of them have been added this year. The library is expanding and new shelves have been added to accommodate the new books.

Girls who donate their time to work in the library are Martha Stara, Mary Kozisek, Mary Lou Polacek, Elva Davidson, Arlene Voboril, Pauline Birkel, Rosalie Zegers, Carole Sabata, Mary Ann Rerucha, Marcie Urbanovsky, Libbie Palik, Mary Ann Marushak, Connie Votava, Maxine Klein and the girls in the freshman English class.

The girls in the freshman English class are taking a course in library work so they can be of greater assistance in their following years of school.

The librarians have different duties. Some of them check out books, some keep the shelves in order, and others put the books away.

The head librarian is La Donna Voboril and her assistant is Jean Juranek. Their duty is to number and check in every book and magazine before it is put in the library.

Harvey Hajek selects a book, while Rosalie Zegers locates a book in the card catalog.

CLASS PROPHECY

Man! Did I ever have a nightmare the other night! Let me relate the details of this dreaded experience to you.

I dreamed I had been out of school for ten years and every graduate passed before my eyes. The first vision was of Alfred Bongers, on bended knee, trying to persuade Barbara Michael to buy a new Studebaker. Barbara has married into the Ford family.

The great game hunter, Sir Charles Bonne, has recently returned from his "Safari" in Africa. With Sir Bonne was his faithful guide, Norman Liebrecht.

As my vision came to France I saw "Commissar Looize Geebshon" (Lois Gibson) with her battalion of faithful Frenchmen about to go on another mission. In New York I saw that some of the old grads had come to the big city to make a small living. Picking up a paper, the first name I saw was Don Hopwood, editor-in-chief of the New York Times. Writing for this trivial paper were Letha Nozicka and Henrietta Svoboda.

Going down to the "Bowery," I saw Carole Vanderkolk, who had replaced the late Lillian Russell, singing at Piller's Cafe. That night I went to a concert at Carnegie Hall where Marilu Thomassen was making her debut singing the aria, "The Return of the Swallow," by Belch. Afterwards I returned to the Stork Club where Darlene Roubal was checking hats. I was led to my table by the headwaiter, George Meister. Returning to my room at the Hotel Zinnecker, I was given a cordial welcome by its owner and proprietor, Bennett B. Zinnecker.

After boarding a train, I went to the smoker. There were Keith Gooseman and Clyde Edwards having a game of cards on their way to attend to their business on Wall Street. And lo and behold, who should I see coming down the aisle? Yes, those two world famous evangelists, Eva Welker and Donna Martin, preparing for a crusade into the interior of China. They are taking along Dr. Judith Richards with a hypo-needle in her satchel. They heard that there is a bad case of rabies in China.

As my vision passed over Chicago, I saw on the corner, Francis Piller's latest invention, a self-service news stand. This has won him national acclaim. Winding above the streets of southside Chicago I met Leonard Kovar on his way to the National Livestock Convention. While in Chicago, I could not resist hearing the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and who should come walking out onto the stage but JoAnn Howe and Leota Ostermeier, playing their reed clarinets under the direction of Mark Sauser. Leaving Chicago I saw that Erma Struebing was now the head of the home demonstration department of the Metropolitan Gas Company.

Going down South, I found Russ Wood still working on his 1951 typing budget for Miss Edith Roos. He always was a willing worker. I also saw Leroy Smith on his way to New York, carrying his diamond-studded pool cue. In Oklahoma I found that Doyle Fyfe is now the head coach of Oklahoma A. and M. and is having a fine season. Also in the deep South was La Dellys Vrana who has put an addition to his 43,999 acre ranch. I discovered, too, that Rosalie Zegers now has her own radio program over Clint, Texas.

Arriving once more in the home town I was astonished to find that some of the gang are still living in David City. Gerald Hascall is following in his father's footsteps and doing a fine job of it for he has now enlarged his business making it to extend one mile out of the city limits. In the best class B school in the state of Nebraska, I found Darlene Aerts doing full-time office work for the high school administration. Downtown I discovered that the former Bock's Produce station is now owned and operated by the Johnson Brothers, with my old classmate, Don, having the upper hand. On a farm near town I saw Dona Gans out feeding the hogs as Mr. Meysenburg was in town practicing for the next home baseball game. And guess whose name met my eyes as I arrived at the State Fair Grounds? It was that of Phyllis Blevins now featured with Joey Chitwood in his thrilling driving show.

At the Uptown Unemployment Bureau I found Jerry Kroeger pushing his way to the front of the line ahead of Willis Moreland, a former David City High School "slave driver," but only by three steps. Going into the mountains, I saw Norma DeWisplare and Geraldine Hascall who were running a mountain lodge called the "Lonesome Hearts." And who should come driving up to the lodge from a nearby station, but Wallace Haight in his new yellow bus.

Jack Gilmore, as my vision continued further, was playing pro basketball for the Denver Heights and this season had been named one of the nominees for the "player of the year." Down near Salt Lake City, I saw Rita Nichols, the former Rita Heniger, with her husband out on the salt flats testing Jack's new racer. It was also discovered that George Clymer has one of the largest sheep ranches in the state of Idaho where he now resides with his wife and twelve children.

Los Alamos, N.M., was the site of the newest rocket-launching station in the country. The first and only woman ever to travel to the moon, Joyce Metzger, was there preparing to take off for the planet. Near Las Vegas were seen Bill Peters and John Kroft. They are operating the exclusive "Last Stop Dude Ranch" and, believe me, they are "taking everybody for a ride."

And just then whom should I meet, but the former Mary Hanley coming with her husband and family in their new economy-sized car, a Greyhound bus. La Donna Voboril and her husband, Joe, were also out West, but just for the holidays. They had left their Butler County farm in the capable hands of Melvin Jisa, their hired man and "jack-of-all-trades." As my non-stop dream approached the coast, I found that Joan Anderson had established one of the leading fashion enterprises on the west coast. Modeling for Joan in one of her branch offices in Palm Springs were Darlene Rathjen and Delores From.

Flashing on and off before my eyes was a big neon sign which caused me to stop and read it again. Yes, there was the slogan of the most progressive business executives in California. It read "Use Your Bean and Trade with Barlean." You see, Tom has one of the biggest used-car lots in the country. Norma Nichols has established a very exclusive mineral water resort out in this part of the country and one of her regular patrons is that leading lady of the cinema, Willette Sima, who is now working on her latest picture, "Flames of Desire."

In San Diego, I came upon Don Struebing, Ben Rerucha, and Edwin Krenk who are making the good old U.S. Navy a career. By the way, they looked like they were doing fine, but who wouldn't when he can spend his liberties in Sunny California. The town was also alive with farmers who had just flown in for the National Soil Conservation Convention. Miles Andel, the newly-elected president, was among them. While traveling to Catalina Island we met "The Kobza," a yacht owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kobza (formerly Arlene Fricke), retired farmers from Rising City. The captain of their yacht, Jerome Humlicek, is becoming very well-known in the nautical world.

Getting back to the mainland, I went to Hollywood where I saw Mary Kozisek tutoring the more prominent child stars of R.K.O. Studios. Another "Abieite" in the movie business is Martha Stara, famous director, who worked under Ida Lupino for the past few years and is now producing her own films. To my utmost shock I saw that Eireen Troupe, world renowned equestrienne, now has a ten-year contract with M-G-M to train the future stars of western movies. At a far northern point in Alaska I was astounded to see "Evelyn Kucera's Home for Orphaned Eskimos." Her husband, Louis Ptacek, with whom she is seldom seen, is perfecting his famous method of ice-fishing.

Passing over the North Pole, I saw "The Copacabana," a trading post operated by Marcella Hast, Jean Juranek, and their husbands. Out in front of the post was a large pack of Alaskan Huskies. The girls first became interested in Huskies and the North when they were seniors in high school and saw some dogs perform at an assembly program given for the students.

Ann Sloup, who last summer had swum the English Channel, was preparing to swim the Bering Strait.

CLASS WILL

JOAN ANDERSON wills her position as Mr. Lally's secretary to anyone foolish enough to take it.

NORMA ARMAGOST leaves her red hair to Lea Schlentz. Here's hoping it gets redder as the years go by.

ALFRED BONGERS wills his "behind-the-wheel" training to Mr. Mercer.

CHARLES BONNE wills his ability to study chemistry, or any other class for that matter, to his brother, Harold.

PHYLLIS BLEVINS won't leave anything. She wants to take it all with her.

DOYLE FYFE wills his height and athletic physique to Eddie Duren.

JACK GILMORE leaves his '36 Ford to anyone who can stop it, or even start it.

WALLACE HAIGHT wills his ability to ride a motor scooter to whomever it may concern.

MARY HANLEY refuses to will her prize possession, her Omaha boy friend, to anyone.

GERALD HASCALL releases his old flames from Bellwood to Valerian Rech, providing he can handle them.

EVA WELKER leaves her meek, reserved personality to Leo Kovar.

GERALDINE HASCALL'S Bellwood friends go to anyone who wants them.

JOYCE METZGAR leaves with a sigh of relief.

BARBARA MICHAEL wills her knowledge of Ford tractors and earthborne implements to any other up and coming young farmer.

JOHN LANG leaves his parents' vacations to anyone who can stand the strain of his parties.

RITA HENIGER wills her beat-up 51 Buick to another speed demon, Jack Venus.

WILLETTE SIMA gives her long black hair to Roy Welte, who thinks he can make good use of it.

MARILU THOMASSEN'S singing ability, as well as her accomplished piano work goes to Connie Votava.

LOIS GIBSON leaves her slinky walk to Mary Ann Marushak.

FRANCIS PILLER leaves his early morning paper route to another early riser, Ron Conrad.

LA DONNA VOBORIL leaves Joe.

LA DELLYS VRANA wills his Octavia address to Grayce Ann Allen.

GEORGE MEISTER offers his post office truck to anyone who wants to play the game.

DON JOHNSON leaves his good times at parties to Don Hamsa who promises to make the best of it.

Leo Meister receives LEONARD KOVAR'S cowboy boots.

BEN ZINNECKER leaves his ability to stay in class to Bud Hasik.

ROSALIE ZEGERS wills her yodeling voice to Marcie Paseka even though she seems to be doing quite well herself.

RUSS WOOD leaves his soft, curly hair to John Rumbaugh who thinks Toni's are too expensive.

CAROLE VANDERKOLK just leaves her familiar saying, "Stop signs, heck! I got pull!"

DARLENE ROUBAL wills her ability to work all four years of high school to anyone who can stand the grind.

DARLENE AERTS wills her ability to get to school early to Dick Wood.

Anne was being carefully supervised at the time by her swimming coach and personal adviser, Jane Fadschild. Traveling south once more I came upon Doris Ellen Kroft in Quebec. She is now the personal secretary for the prime minister of the Dominion of Canada.

Then my vision seemed to fade and I heard a mumble of confusing, but familiar sounds. Finally the sound became clearer—and closer. "Jack! Jack! Get up! Jack! Do you hear me???? John Lang, get up this minute!!!!" "Yea, mom, I'm comin'," I said. "Wow! What a nightmare!!!!!"

JUDY RICHARDS leaves her brains and straight A's for four years to Tom Darrow and the rest of the sophomores.

WILLY PETERS leaves his '32 Chevie to anyone that can herd it into town.

The annual headaches suffered by LETHA NOZICKA are left to the next year's editor, poor Connie!

DARLENE RATHJEN leaves her classtime snoozes to Maxine Klein.

Eileen Kelso receives JO ANN HOWE'S blonde hair and "pint" size.

ARLIENE FRICKE wills her faithfulness to one boy for four years and her engagement ring to Norma Johnson. Those rosy cheeks which belong to MARY KOZISEK are willed to all the junior girls that come in late at night.

JEROME HUMLICEK leaves his east Butler County accent to Mr. Lally.

Don Mahlin will inherit EDWIN KRENK'S "pride and joy forever," his cattle truck.

JOHN KROFT'S desire to follow cars at night, especially when driven by females, goes to Jerry Connerley.

EIREEN TROUPE wills her job at the State Theater to Rose Marie Rech.

To Norman Coufal is left NORMAN PILLER'S tricks of the trade.

EVELYN KUCERA wills her Schuyler boy friends to Mary Ann Marushak.

MILES ANDEL leaves his "champion pigs" to another livestock lover, Dick Wood.

J. V. Nicodemus will receive that manly sounding voice which belongs to TOM BARLEAN.

GEORGE CLYMER'S noonday athletics will go to Melvin McElravy.

DONA GANS leaves her cheer-leading sweater to anyone who can fill it properly.

The hunting ability and love of the out-of-doors possessed by JERRY KROEGER goes to Mike Johnson.

DON HOPWOOD'S printing press goes back to Benjamin Franklin.

JANE FADSCILD wills her ability in steno and her slim figure to Janice Welker.

"CHICK" MARTIN leaves the car keys and empty gas tank, as well as her midnight studying, to her sisters if they can meet the requirements.

ANNE SLOUP leaves her little room off the stage to anyone who needs a little rest on school time.

MARK SAUSER'S maroon jacket and green bow tie go to Walt Svoboda who looks good in anything.

LEROY SMITH leaves his pool-cue to another up-and-coming pool shark, Howard Ebmeier.

DELORES FROM just leaves, but willingly enough, her hash-slinging job in the coffee shoppe.

KEITH GOOSMAN leaves his job after school and his cigarette lighter, to Mr. Shuck, who seems to be allergic to work.

This year's junior-senior banquet committee will receive MARCELLA HAST'S '30 Ford truck.

NORMA JEAN HOWE would like to leave with Charlie Bonne.

The remainder of the contents of MELVIN JISA'S bottle of hair oil is left to Cappy Nixon.

JEAN JURANEK leaves her Schuyler heart-beats to anyone willing to drive that far.

DORIS ELLEN KROFT'S blue ribbons from the Butler

County fair go to Marci Jo Nicodemus. That's one way to make money.

NORMAN LIEBRECHT bequeaths his private pet shop to the local humane society.

NORMA NICHOLS leaves in the Pontiac from Ulysses that is always waiting for her.

LOUIS PTACEK'S, BENEDICT RERUCHA'S, and DON STRUEBING'S card playing ability will be moved down town from now on.

MARTHA STARA'S Sunday walks to Bruno go to anyone with a car and the desire to see the town.

HENRIETTA SVOBODA leaves her position, secretary for Mr. Gingery, to anyone who can read his writing.

LEOTA OSTERMEIER wills her turquoise Packard to Leo Meister.

NORMA DEWISPELARE willingly gives her bobby pins to Maxine Timms.

TO THE JUNIORS we leave the odor of the ash can received when you sit by the windows.

TO THE SOPHOMORES we give all the knowledge that leaves David City High School when we leave.

TO THE FRESHMEN are willed the tricks of the trade.
