Prologue

MEMORIES—The thin gossamer threads from which dreams are made—are being preserved and dedicated to the students of David City High School who made this school year of 1952-53 the memorable experience that it was.

Our school life has evolved and revolved around three areas—STUDENTS, CLASSES, and ACTIVITIES. In this 1953 Scout we have endeavored to show how the STUDENT through study in his chosen CLASSES and participation in ACTIVITIES gets the most out of his treasured high school years.

When looking back in years to come, we hope this book will help you to recall the many well-filled hours spent in a complete year at David City High School.

The 1953 Scout was brought to you through the combined efforts of the Scout staff.

Administration and Faculty

The Board of Education is a group selected by the people of the school district to see that the children of the community are given the best education possible. They are a policy making group.

David City is fortunate in having a Board of Education that is especially conscientious in performing their duties. The pupils of our school have many additional opportunities not found in other schools, such as, a highly qualified teaching staff, a wide selection of subjects and activities, superior equipment and a personal interest in everyone's welfare.

Members of the Board of Education are: Dr. D. E. Burdick, president; Mrs. V. D. Friis, vice-president; Mr. Harold L. Zinnecker, secretary; Mr. Robert G. Mayfield, Mrs. Mildred Smith and Mr. Charles Vasina.

The Spokesmen at Work ..

The main purpose of the student council is to act as spokesmen for the entire student body. The members of this organization are selected by their class to represent them on the council. The officers for the 1952-53 school term were Tom Darrow, president; Bill Peters, vice-president; Kathryn Kilgore, secretary; and Gene Remmers, treasurer.

Some of the duties of the student council are the assembly programs, maintaining a flower fund, and sponsoring and planning all high school parties.

Dorothy Papa, Robert Glock, and Lois Jean Hinze put the finishing touches on the decorations for the all high school party.

Our Juniors Will Remember . . .

Fifty-four juniors worked diligently to make the 1952-1953 school year one of the highlights of their lives.

The year was started by electing class officers to represent the class. Class sponsors were Miss Donna Rudisil, Miss Helen Kouns and Mr. Ellis Mercer.

Junior representatives on the Student Council were Lois Jean Hinze, Don Hamsa, Kathryn Kilgore and Bill Peters. The class chose their class rings in the early part of the

Eight lettermen returned for the football team along with a student manager. The drum majorette, Marci Jo Nicodemus, was a member of the class. Pat Mulligan and Kathryn Kilgore were elected cheerleaders by the Pep Club.

Mr. Willard Lally chose the cast for the Junior Class play, "Hook, Line, and Sinkers," which was the juniors' first crack at dramatics.

And last but not least the class planned the junior-senior banquet held in May.

Classes

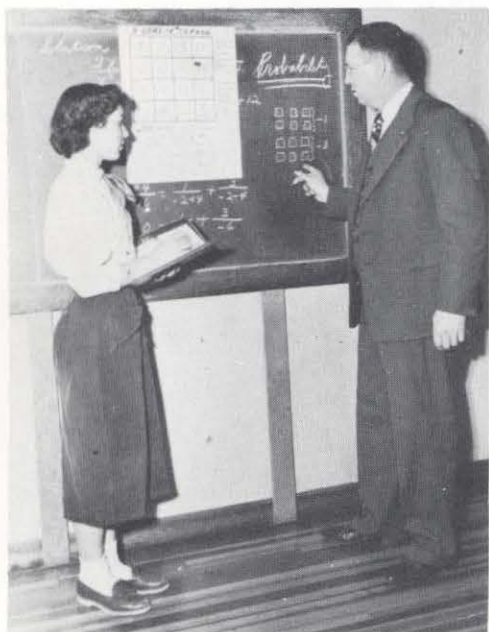

Gene Remmers and Walt Svoboda perform experiments in chemistry laboratory.

Read, Learn,

David City High School maintains a high standard on the college preparatory level. The course complies fully with state regulations governing entrance requirements to the University of Nebraska and state colleges.

Four years of English, two years of mathematics, two years of foreign language, and three years each of science and social studies are required for the course.

Mr. B. E. Vauck, advanced algebra instructor, explains the game of chance to Jackie Borovick.

Nick Meysenburg arranges a Roman kitchen for Mrs. Elda Hansen in Latin II.

Miss Catherine Swanson, biology instructor, displays the model eye to Clarence Graybill.

Study, Achieve

The English department is recognized as one of the finest in the state. This course has extensive work in grammar, literature and speech. It covers all that students entering college are expected to know in this field.

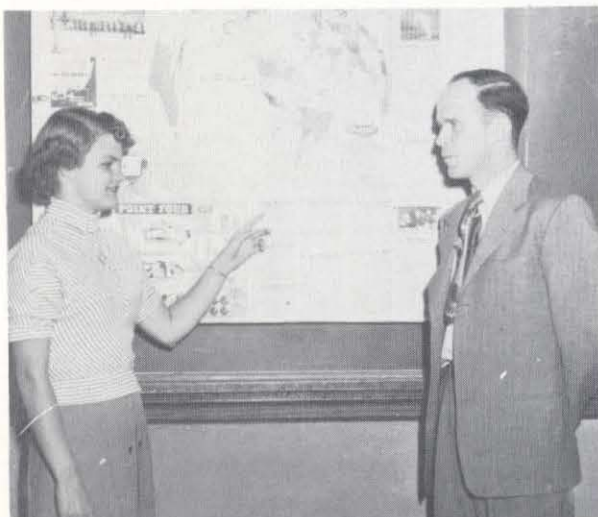

The sciences include biology, physics, and chemistry. World history, American history and civics are the social studies offered. Courses in mathematics include two years of algebra and plane geometry.

The general course is offered for those who prefer a general education.

Mr. Ellis Mercer, mathematics instructor, solves an algebra problem for Marla Armagost, a freshman student.

Mr. John Rumbaugh gives Betty Hunt advice on her world history notes.

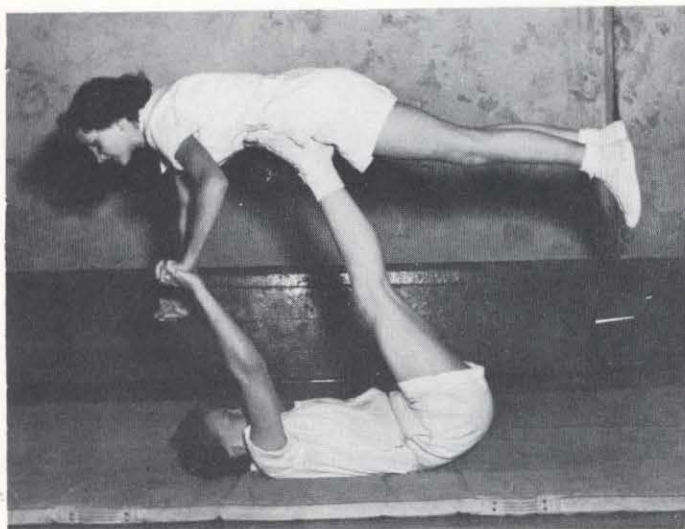

Ann Klosterman discusses current events for American history with Mr. Draney.

Marion Graybill, Jane Boroviak, and Miss Lucile Hoffman listen while Dorothy Meister records a speech in English 9.

Time Out for Play

Performing the "angel" in physical education class are Betty Jisa and Julann Krov.

Through all the rush and turmoil of high school days, 60 girls were enrolled in the physical education classes this year. Under the direction of Miss Lorene Hoschele, the girls have had a well-organized program.

Their schedule consisted of many different sports such as basketball, softball, soccer, volley ball, badminton and tumbling. The girls had a basketball tournament in which they organized their own teams.

Recreational games and dancing were part of the girls' schedule also. The classes learned and participated in organized exercises to maintain good body health and strength and also to use up surplus energy.

Alvin Osmera is working on the jigsaw for his shop project in the industrial arts.

Working is Fun

The woodworking classes of David City High School can be proud of having one of the most modern shops of any Class B school in the state.

Utilizing fluorescent lighting, the newly-built plant has the power tools along the west wall with work benches in the center and storage racks on the east wall.

Students are offered three years of work in the course under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Lynn Shuck.

Hit the Brakes

The driver's training program at David City High School had an enrollment of 63 students this year.

"Behind-the-wheel" training was taken in a 1952 Chevrolet which was donated by the D. D. Davis Chevrolet Garage.

Mr. Ellis Mercer had charge of classroom instructions and "behind-the-wheel" training was directed by Mr. John Tomek. The driver's training course was completed when the students obtained their driver's licenses.

Mr. John Tomek, behind-the-wheel instructor, explains the mechanism of the carburetor of the drivers' training car to Fred Kozisek.

Mr. Ellis Mercer, drivers' training instructor, demonstrates a new principle of merging traffic to Blondell Henk and Glenn Cemper.

Wilma Svoboda dictates shorthand characters to Gloria Shay.

Let'er Take

The commercial department at David City High School is one of the best-equipped in the state. This course consists of shorthand, typing, machines, and a study of the many duties of a secretary. Miss Helen Kouns supervises the commercial course this year.

During the year the girls prepare themselves for jobs as secretaries and for the Merit System Test which they took in March. Later they took the Civil Service Test.

Marilyn Sargent, commercial student, is cutting a stencil on the mimeoscope.

Donna Scribner is working on the bookkeeping machine as a part of her secretarial training program.

A Letter

In preparation for their career, the girls take typing and first year shorthand when they are juniors. The senior girls take office practice which gives them experience as secretaries for the administrators and some of the teachers. The senior shorthand class includes typing, shorthand, dictation and transcription, services of different businesses, business law and short units on secretarial responsibilities.

The office machines course consists of the Dictaphone, typing units, Ditto and Mimeographing, the calculator, bookkeeping machine, and the adding machines.

Miss Helen Kouns demonstrates the key board to her beginning typing students.

Darlene Vraspir is looking through the guidance test files for information.

Cooking, Sewing Always Improving

Miss Donna Rudisil and F. H. A. president, Arlene Kucera, admire a scrapbook.

Marie Jacob and Gladys Voboril admire the different types of draperies in home economics.

Darlene Focher calls Ruth Nichols' attention to the style of a dress in a magazine in home economics.

In home economics, Betty Jisa prepares a vegetable in the pressure cooker while Joyce Sandy checks her baking.

Guided by Miss Donna Rudisil, homemaking instructor, 74 girls have learned many new techniques for becoming better homemakers during the past school term.

Sewing, home decoration and management, cooking and family relationships were some of the units studied by the three classes. Home experiences were based on some units.

Homemaking at David City High School is a three-year course which can be taken any three years of one's high school career.

Leading the way for the Future Homemakers of America were Arlene Kucera, president; Donna Scribner, vice-president; Arlene Bock, secretary; Stella Slosser, treasurer, and Miss Donna Rudisil, sponsor. Many worth-while projects were carried on by this group throughout the year.

Toil on the Soil

Don Mahlin and Dean Glock judge cream in vocational agriculture.

Planning For the Future

Mr. Robert E. Draney explains the purpose of the guidance program to the high school students.

David City High School students received the benefits of a complete guidance program this year for the first time.

In Mr. Robert E. Draney, the school has a guidance director who is particularly gifted in this field. His training at the University of Nebraska equipped him well for this work.

The program began rolling at the beginning of the year as students took achievement, vocational and personal aptitude tests.

Interpretation and application of the results followed. In the vocational preference area each student learned about the job prospects in his field of interest.

Mr. Robert E. Draney, guidance instructor, helps students find information on future vocations. They are (left to right) Jan Moser, Jerry Connerley and Mary Lou Polacek.

Custodians Roy Welte, Don Shrader and Ray Kudlacek have the task of keeping the rooms and halls of the school clean. Fred Stafford is the custodian at South Ward.

Roy Welte also has the duty of keeping the school warm in the winter. Arriving at approximately 5 a.m., Roy comes to fire the furnace seven days a week during cold weather.

Mrs. Vern Blevins and Mrs. John Tomek are the cooks in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Blevins and Mrs. Tomek prepare meals for about 160 students each day.

The school's bus drivers are John Tomek, Ray Kudlacek, Don Shrader, Bob Doner and Fred Stafford. They furnish transportation for the students to and from school and for athletic games away from home.

Bob Doner is also the bus mechanic. He services and repairs David City's busses and keeps them in good running order to travel their routes each day.

Keeping busses in repair is part of the job of Bob Doner, who also drives one of the busses.

Activities

Assistant Coach Lynn Shuck and Coach John Rumbaugh talk over a play with quarterback Lane Birkel.

Sept. 12—David City 31, Osceola 7

The Scouts breezed by Osceola 31-7 in the first game of the season held on Bulldog turf. Wayne Morgan led Coach John Rumbaugh's running attack as he rambled for a total of 110 yards. David City held a 12-0 halftime lead. The Scouts racked up 11 first downs to the losers' 4. The season's prospects looked good.

Sept. 19—David City 25, Wahoo 7

Second to fall by the wayside was Wahoo 25-7 in the first home game of the season. Bill Peters, who missed the first game because of injuries, paced David City's backs by gaining 71 yards. The Scouts held a 7-0 edge at the half, but the scoreboard soon changed. Mike Johnson scored on a sparkling 80-yard runback of the second-half kickoff.

Sept. 26—David City 51, Schuyler 12

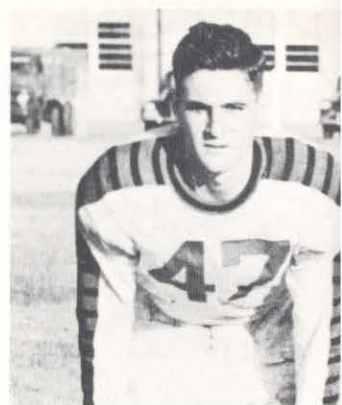

Overwhelmed by a score of 51-12, the Schuyler Warriors were no match for David City. The Scouts ran up the largest score of the season. Robbie Armagost scored on a 67-yard run, the largest gain made by a David City back during the whole season. The Scouts held a 20-6 halftime lead. Early in the year the choir elected Grayce Ann Allen, president; John Zinnecker, vice-president; Durward Gibb, treasurer. These officers were student leaders who shared responsibilities and helped to make the choir productions a success.

The highlight of the year was the operetta, "Play the Game," presented on March 19 and 20. This featured the entire choir. The football hero, Bill Braun, was played by Mike Johnson. John Zinnecker portrayed Harry Class, the class brain. Betty Bliss, the nice little girl who found everything "exceedingly" difficult, was played by Dolores Medinger. Jackie Martin played the part of Minerva Gross, the flirt who caused a great deal of trouble. Robert Glock was the janitor who always managed to get in on the gossip. Professor Phipps, the professor, was played by Allen Covault.

Other appearances made by the choir were the Christmas program at the City Auditorium on December 14. The music clinic was held on April 8. Mr. James S. Vail, director of music at Midland College, was the guest conductor. A choral concert was given the same evening at the City Auditorium. On April 16 and 17 the choir attended district music contest at Fremont. The choir groups also took part in baccalaureate and commencement programs.

The various small groups and soloists provided entertainment at several programs, music contests and business organizations.

Pictured at dress rehearsal are the cast and chorus during the opening song of "Play The Game," an operetta in three acts, which was presented at the City Auditorium on March 19 and 20.

Strike up the Band

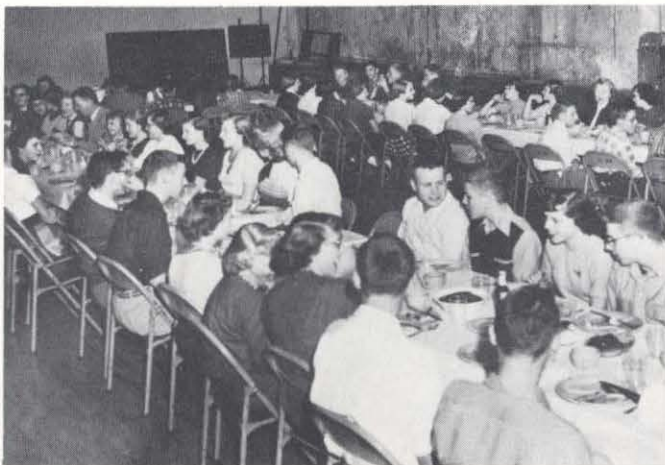

During the past year the 65-piece marching band, led by drum majorette, Marci Jo Nicodemus, has performed in many events. The band made its first appearance at the Butler County Fair August 24.

The band marched at all of the home football games, drilling and going through many routines. They marched through the fair grounds and in front of the grandstand at the State Fair September 4, at Abie's 75th Jubilee October 5 and at the Brainard Festival September 7. They marched at the half-time of the football game at Schuyler on September 25, and received an excellent rating at the Ak-Sar-Ben contest October 11. The band did an eight-minute routine before judges and performed against rugged competition with other Class B high school bands. On October 18, the band traveled to Grand Island for the Harvest of Harmony and received an excellent rating. The band met the Omaha Tribe of Yessir at the Union Pacific railroad station on November 13.

The pep band added life to the away football games and all of the basketball games throughout the year. Here Comes David

The 1952-53 basketball season saw the David City Scouts completing the season with seven wins and nine losses. In conference action the Scouts managed to win two of seven games to finish in seventh place in the Central Eight standings.

Coach John Rumbaugh's squad never failed to make a good showing as only three games were lost by more than 6 points.

David City opened the season with a convincing 44-24 win over Osceola, but were dropped by Wahoo 25-22 in an overtime affair. Don Kilgore dropped in a charity toss with two seconds remaining to give the Scouts a victory over York 35-34. Crete whipped David City 51-34, the worst defeat of the season.

Central City's Bison gave David City a heart-breaking 34-33 defeat before the Scouts' attack caught hold and rolled past Aurora 55-50. Norfolk nipped David City 42-40 to start the February action.

Seward, the eventual Central Eight champion, came back in the fourth quarter to harness the Scouts 53-44. The cool, smooth operating Cozad Haymakers, who wound up the season as the state champion, skipped to a 45-41 victory over David City.

The Scouts had the rare experience of playing two overtime contests in a row as they lost to the Schuyler Warriors 46-40, but came back to top the Columbus Discoverers 66-65. Don Dworak poured in 21 points against the Discoverers, the largest individual total for a David City player during the season.

The Albion Cardinals bounded past the Scouts 59-50 before David City slapped a 52-48 defeat on Gothenburg in the final game of the season.

In the District Tournament at Central City the Scouts met the Bison in the first round and were defeated 51-48 in an overtime heart-breaker.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom

The Junior-Senior banquet was held May 3, 1952. Decorations for the banquet were taken from a Gay Nineties' theme. Juniors of David City High School entertained the seniors, the faculty and the school board members.

The Junior-Senior-Alumni Ball followed the banquet. The Alumni King and Queen and their attendants were presented at this time. The Queen, Lea Schlentz, was attended by Norma Johnson and Janice Welker. Norman Coufal, the King, was attended by Carlin Jacob and Ronald Conrad.

The juniors, seniors, faculty, and administration enjoy the banquet, one of the featured social highlights of the year.
