Mildred Smith is the school secretary. She has charge of the office practice girls in addition to many other school duties.

The elementary building is the new home of the hot lunch program. Mrs. Blevins and Mrs. Tomek are demonstrating a new convenience, the Hosbart dish washer.

Our very capable bus drivers this year are: Louis Johannes, Fred Forney, John Tomek, and Chester Smith. Not pictured, Ray Kudlacek.

Sweeping to the strains of music this year is Glen Ladwig. Also helping to keep the school in neat appearance, but not pictured, Robert Doner.

content to follow when we lead the way.

One of the most exciting moments for the juniors is the receiving of their class rings. Admiring them are their class officers: Doris Hoeft, president: Roman Smaus, vice president; and Gladys Stara, secretary. Not pictured is their treasurer, Steve Henk.

a little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men.

the world's history is the world's judgement.

The world history students soon learned that the world was an interesting place hundreds of years ago. They realize the importance of studying past mistakes to guide us in the future. Here the students are pointing out past powerful nations of the world.

Phyllis Sohl and John Minnick are taking a closer look at the nation they live in. In Amercian history the students learn more about their home land.

The American problems class finds that having a debate over a recent event can be fun. Do you suppose they're discussing John Glenn's flight?

The world has had a fascinating history. This seems to be what Gary Divis and Mary Sack are thinicing as they point out interesting locations on the globe.

History is one of the subjects that all students at David City find themselves taking at one time or another in their four years of high school. They find it to be one of the building blocks to better understanding of the world's affairs. World history, American history, and American problems are offered to the students under the supervision of Mr. Gray and Mr. Maret.

Bulletin boards can be fun. At least Don Taylor and Ron Trofholz seem to think so.

science is organized knowledge.

In general science the study of atoms has proved very interesting. Here Bob Howe is explaining what an atom is made up of.

David Scribner is explaining one of the many terms that is used in physical science. Dwaine Divis looks on with interest.

The physics class is experimenting with one of the many wonders of electricity. They are Tom Perrin, Doris Hoeft, Jack Eberly, Mike O'Brien, Bob Sabata, and Miss Swanson.

Miss Swanson is explaining the human brain, one of the parts of the nervous system. Sue Hajek and Linda Ball look on with interest.

things do not happen in this world...

Spanish students soon learn that taking a foreign languare can be fun as well as educational. The Spanish I students are writing sentences in Spanish on the board.

Admiring the Spanish bulletin board are Jane Klosterman. Kathy Sabata, Mary Jane Turek, Marianne Messerschmit, and Susan Zeilinger.

Under the direction of Mr. Jerry Mullins many DCHS students have improved their driving skills and learned many things about the operation of an automobile.

Our library is under the supervision of Miss Monfross. She teaches students how to keep the library in good order.

The only foreign language taught at our school is Spanish. It is under the direction of Mr. Maret. In this world of international relations the students realize the importance of knowing foreign languages.

One fact the students at DCHS learn quickly is the library is an essential part of their study. Shown here are students making use of its reference.

Attending the Youth Conference of Safety in Lincoln this year were Gerald Otoupal, Judy Rey, Marjorie Wynegar, and Mike O'Brien. This was the first time students from our school attended.

they are brought about.

Shown doing calisthenics are the members of the boy's P. E. class. They have played basketball softball, and other sports throughout the year.

Mr. Gray, instructor of the girl's P. E. class. taught the girls how to play and understand many sports. The girls learned that sports can be fun ar well as healthful.

The satisfaction of work well done is one of the greatest rewards that can be experienced by an individual. This is impressed upon the industrial arts students by their teacher, Mr. Bilse Robinson.

By putting mechanical drawing to many uses, industry functions smoothly and supplies us with the goods we need. In doing this, industry has steadily raised our standards of living. This is the aim of the students in mechanical drawing.

Boys' and girls' physical education is under the direction of Mr. Jerry Mullins, and Mr. Ron Gray. These students realize the importance of good physical health to keep mentally as well as physically fit.

Shown mastering the art of mechanical drawing is Jr. Kulhanek. It all seems interesting as well as educational to Junior.

Proudly displaying his corner table which he made in Industrial Arts II is Dave Cook. This truly is the satisfaction of work well done.

man has his will ... but woman her ways.

The freshman homemaking class are making menus which they will use when they begin cooking in the kitchen.

With the growing importance of women in the business world, the homemaking students realize the importance of finance, budgeting, and economizing. Cooking, sewing, laundering, and learning to meet emergencies must also be included.

Home experiences are valuable assets in providing chances for the students to practice the skills which they have learned.

Miss Janet Elsasser realizes that as the world of knowledge expands, the girls, too, must expand their abilities to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

The seniors are busy counting their calories that they have kept for a week. By studying their diets they learn whether they meet their nutritonal needs, and if necessary, how to Pat Heins and Sharon Schroeder are demonstrating to their class one of the types of bandages they have learned about in their first aid unit.

the land of the living

Deep in thought are the members of the Voc. Ag. I class. In their first year of vocational agriculture they are taught the fundamentals of farming.

One of the many items studied in the Voc. Ag. III class is income tax. Larry Cermak and Bernard Divis the pointing out some of the more difficult parts of it.

"The land of the living." This phrase means more to the Voc. Ag. boys than ever before.

Under the guidance of Mr. Joseph Horak, the boys realize the importance of not only learning about crops and soil, animal husbandry and farm mechanics, but also credit and management in running a good farm. These skills combined with an ambitious young man will make a successful farm.

Building things useful for the farm is one of the many things the sophomores accomplish in Voc. Ag. II.

Here we see the Voc. Ag. II boys workng on their projects. After they have completed their projects, they take them home and use them on their farms.

a nation of shopkeepers.

Dictation is an important phase in mastering the art of shorthand. Here the Steno I sirls are learning to increase their speed.

Learning how to fill out forms correctly is being demonstrater by Joan Bohaty and Carolyn Matulka in Steno II. Mrs. Robin son is ready to answer any questions that the class may have

Mrs. Kay Robinson stresses the importance of becoming a good secretary in this age of the working girl. The procedures of typing, dictation, and transcription must be mastered completely. Office machines and office practice teach and give them experience in the use of the latest machines. We are living in the age of machines, but the girls realize the importance of mastering them.

Curve your fingers, wrists up, and eyes on the copy ! These instructions are heard by the members of the Typing I class.

Practice makes perfect. The typing classes at DCHS learn that this saying is only too true. Keep at it boys!

who climbs the grammar tree distinctly knows where noun, and verb, and participle grow.

The juniors are busy preparing their next days assignment. Each knows the importance of English for their future success.

To help the students to form habits of clear thinking, to stimulate him to greater effort in forming better speech habits, and to encourage him to write and speak about things within his own observation and experience-this is the aim of the English department at DCHS. These classes are taught under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Ham and Miss Ellen Monfross.

Carolyn Mais is giving a speech to her fellow classmates. They find that the ability to give a good speech is a real challenge.

The freshmen are learning how to outline their ideas before writing an essay: Here Darla Wiegardt is showing the class how it is done.

Ron Trofholz and Eunice Cernohlavek are pointing out to the senior English cless different men who they are reading about during their study in English literature. Seeing these men as they were makes the study more interesting to the students.

The study of monomials and polynomials has proved very interesting to the Algebra I class. Concentrating on the work, the students are making good use of their study period.

Making good use of their study period are the advanced algebra students. We wonder if Bruce Piller is concentrating as much as he seems to be.

Janet Kmoch and Bill Frohner are showing their math class what they have gained from the assignment. They learn quickly the importance of math in everyday living.

Del Resenberry and Karen Kucera are working a the board showing the class one of the many con struction processes in geometry. They realize that a good imagination can come in handy in this class.

Mathematic is the science of our number system. It gives us the means of expressing the relationships we observe in nature and of performing useful and necessary computations. Mathematics has been called the language of the sciences.

Mrs. Covault is in charge of three of the math courses offered at DCHS-algebra, geometry, and advanced algebra. Mr. Davis teaches general math.

Bisecting an angle can be fun, at least that is the way Jean Jambor and Dennis Stara seem to think.

music is the universal

One of the most popular, perhaps, of the groups this year was the Wheelers Combo. They added greatly to the parties put on at the school. This group consists of: Bruce Piller, David Scribner, Bob Sabata, Mik $\geqslant$ McCracken, Mike Jess, Jack Eberly, Dennis Stara, and Bob Gingery.

The band's officers and council members are: ctanding, Bob Gingery, Bruce Filler, Sandra Sweney, Lynde Otto, Jack Eberly, and Bol. Howe: sitting, Jo Vasina, vice president; Pat Smith, president: and Shirley Struebing, secretary-treasurer.

The majorettes that were at the head of the Scout band this year are: left to right, Ida Sandy, Billy Jo Butler, Ellen Rae Zima, Sharon Schroeder, and Phyllis Sohl. Darlene Svoboda was drum majorette.

With a blare of horns and marching of feet the Scout marching band marched to fame and glory.

The DCHS marching band took part in the Band Day Parade in Lincoln and the halftime performance during the Nebraska-Arizona football game. The band also participated in the Labor Day Parade at Schuyler and furnished the entertainment at halftime during the football season.

The DCHS concert band presented a winter and spring concert. They also took part in the district contest held at Wahoo.
Under the direction of Mr. James Slepicka, the band worked diligently to represent DCHS at its best. Most people will agree that the band proved outstanding this year.

music is well said

Blue Mondays and Wednesdays are brightened by the melodies sung by the girls glee. Under the direction of Mr. McMeen, the girls' glee together with several small groups have made many appearances throughout the year.
 Vanis, Betty Dollison, Shirley Navrkal, Diane Muller, Vickie Bock, Henrietta Matulka, second row, Janice Divis, Jeanne Jambor, Gladys Stara, Claudine Glock, Darla Wiegart, Sharon Greene, Elaine Jisa, Sharon Havlena, Carol Polacek, Carolyn Matulka, Marilyn Eschiman, Corleita Johnson, Chelys Svoboda, top row, Karen Kucera, Linda Blei, Janice Mayfield, Bonnie Kimble, Kathy Krov, Annie Kliment, Marilou Pieters, Donna Moravec, Patsy Novak, Aldeen Nieman, Janet Pieters, Gerry Kucera, Margaret Osantowski, and Helen Novak. The officers are Gladys Stara, president : Jeanne Jambor, vice president; Joyce Byam, librarian, and Billie Jo Butler secretary, who is not pictured,

to be the speech of angels.

The accompanists for choir, girls glee, and all small groups are: standing, Jane Klosterman, Janis Mayfield, Lynda Otto, and Sharon Greene. Seated at the piano, also an accompanist, is Carol Polacek.

The sound of music can be heard every Tuesday and Thursday as the choir rehearses. This year the choir clinic was held in David City with the DCHS choir as host. Besides the evening concert presented at the clinic there were numerous other performances during the year. With their director, Mr. McMeen, the choir also appeared at the music contest in Wahoo.

Girls trio is a small group that was added to our music department this year. It is composed of Shirley Struebing, Sharon Schroeder, and Pat Raric.

The members of the football, basketball, and track teams who have lettered in these sports are members of the DC Club. They attain this honor by participating for a required amount of time in each sport. Their sponsors are: Mr. Gray, Mr. Mullins, and Mr. Robinson.

The job of leading these boys was put to Junior Kulhanek, president; Jim Smith, vice president; Alfred Hoshor, secretarytreasurer; and Don Taylor, sergeant-aturms.

let every man do his best.

Adolph Kulhanek makes a final dash for the finish line in the 100 yard dash. This gave the Scouts another win against Schuyler.

Jack Wolfe, clearing 9 ft .6 in ., attempts to break another school record.

This year Mr. Robinson and his track boys gave a spectacular end to the sports activities for DCHS. With lots of work and determination the boys gave a good showing in spite of hard competition.

Making a spectacular jump against Schuyler, Larry Chubb clears a height of 5 ft .4 in .

a cool mouth and warm feet.

Letterman Adolph Kulhanek s putting all his efforts forward to win the broad jump during the DC vs. Schuyler meet.

Here we see Roman Smaus warming up for his turn at the discus throw.

Gary Navrkal and Don Taylor look determined to win the high hurdles. Determination is one aspect that is essential to win.

Dick Taylor has one aim as he runs toward the finish line and that's to break it before his opponents do.

The track boys are seen doing their daily calisthenics. This is one of the many requirements to keed the boys in shape during the season.

"PAT"
The David City representative to 1961 Girls State was Patricia Smith. She was chosen by a committee from the American Legion Auxiliary from the top one-third of the junior girls.

Donald Taylor was the David City representative for 1961 Boys State. He was chosen by a committee from the American Legion for his personality, leadership, and character.

Reigning over the Homecoming activities were Queen Pat Smith, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Smith, and King Alfred Hoshor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoshor, Sr. They were selected by the student body from candidates chosen by the Pep Club and DC Club. The queen must be a senior Pep Club member who has earned her Scouthead; the king must be a senior and a DC letterman. They were crowned at the halftime of the DC-Ashland game by last year's royalty. The royal couple reigned over the dance held after the game.

you attain all things.

The outstanding member of the senior class is Sara Zeilinger. She was chosen as valedictorian on the basis of her 95.6 average which she maintained throughout high school.

Ranking second in the senior class is salutatorian Judi Brecka. An average of 93.7 was upheld by Judi during her four years of high school.

Reigning over the Coronation Party February 10, 1962, were Darlene Svoboda, FFA Sweetheart, and Don Taylor, FHA, King. Darlene and Don were chosen from among all the senior members in these two organizations. They were crowned during the halftime of the David City vs. University High basketball game. Eunice Cernohlavek and Marvin Bohaty were first attendants: Ann Marie Kozisek and Judi Brecka were second attendants.

reward is in the doing

Receiving double honors of D.A.R. representative of Butler County and recipient of the Regents Scholarship was Sara Zeilinger. She was named winner of the D.A.R. contest after she had written an outstanding essay on the importance of a strong national government. Sara received the highest score of the top third of the senior class who took the Regents exams. Don Taylor was named as alternate.

Patricia Smith was the recipient of the John Phillip Sousa Award. Pat was selected by a vote of the members of the Scout band on the basis of her interest and capability in music, loyalty to the band, and character. Pat was presented this honor at the Spring concert.

Mike Jess was named second alternate to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, by Senator Carl C. Curtis.

Being the outstanding girl of her class, Mary Jo Vasina was named winner of the 1962 SCOUT AWARD. She was chosen by the faculty for her achievements in scholarship, citizenship, and participation in ex-tra-curricular activities. Alternate for this award is Darlene Svoboda.

The distinction of being the outstanding boy of the class of ' 62 goes to Donald Taylor. He also was chosen for his participation in extracurricular activities, citizenship, and scholastic ability. To the recipients of the SCOUT AWARD go complimentary annuals. Alternate for this award is Gary Navrkal.

but fate ordains that

The official beginning of the 1962 Alumni Ball was the grand march. All seniors and juniors participate in this event.
"Dutch Garden" was the theme of the 1962 prom. The juniors worked hard to make this last social event for the seniors outstanding. The sophomores made use of their talents in entertaining and serving. Prom was brought to a wonderful climax with the coronation of Queen Sara Zeilinger and King Adolf Kulhanek.

The sophomore sextet furnished entertainment for the event. They are: left to risht, Grace Ann Stara, Susan Zeilinger, Jeanne Jambor, Sharorf Schroeder, Kathy Sabata, and Pat Heins.

The 1962 Prom Royalty was Shirley Struebing, Jim Smith, Queen Sara Zeilinger, King Adolf Kulhanek, Carolyn Mais, and Alfred Hoshor.
