*"To become a successful person
in any profession,
three things are necessary,
nature, study, and practice."*

Mrs. Lottie Covault

The annual staff dedicates the 1967 SCOUT to Mrs. Lottie Covault, who during her seven years at David City High School has always been more than willing to help any of us who needed guidance or encouragement.

The preparedness she gives us to meet the future needs and demands has won for her the respect and admiration of every one of her students.

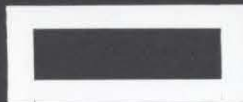

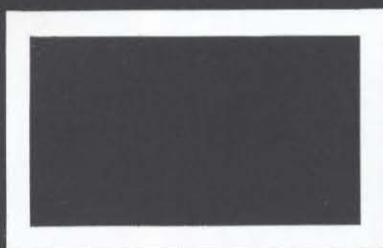

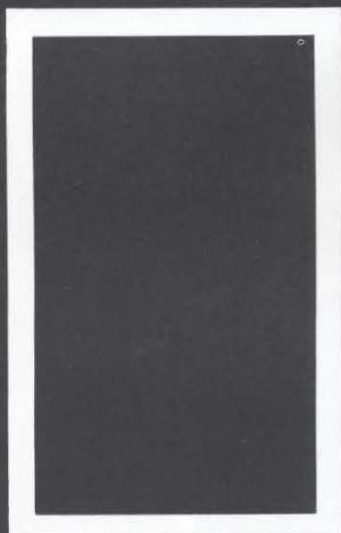

With a smiling face she is always there when help is needed.

Those of us in journalism have appreciated her patience and understanding.

"Success lies in honest toil."

Throughout the school year the School Board is always working for the betterment of our school system. These responsible community members take time out of their busy schedules to make the David City Public School System have the very highest level of educational benefit possible.

The board members are Norman Davis, Dr. Jack Kaufmann, Mary Lou Wilson, Marg Foreman, Bill Armagost, and Harold Zinnecker.

The students of David City never have to worry about getting to school with our capable bus drivers. This year Loddie Dolezal, Don Glock, Vic Pelan, John Tomek, Ray Kudlacek, and Chester Smith drove the school buses for DCHS.

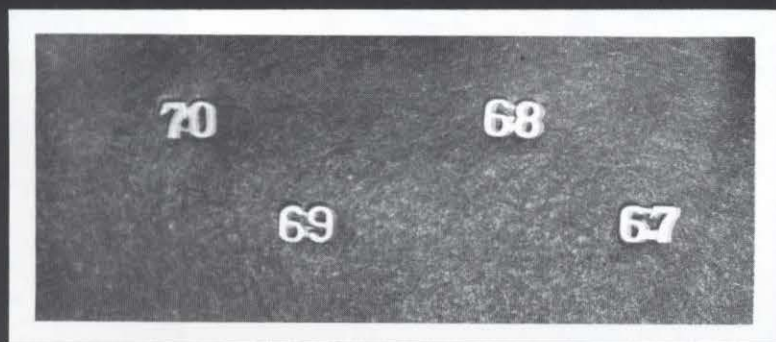

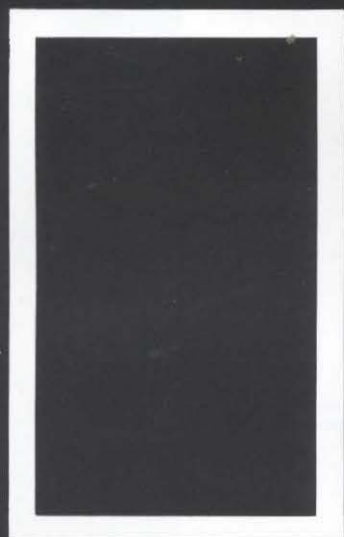

The cooks at the hot lunch room are carving the turkey for the Thanksgiving Dinner. During the year they prepare the noon meals for the elementary and high school students. They are: Mrs. McCracken, Mrs. Tomek, and Mrs. Blevins.

Glenn Ladwig and Vic Pelan kept the high school clean and neat this year. The job of custodian keeps these men very busy.

C LASSES

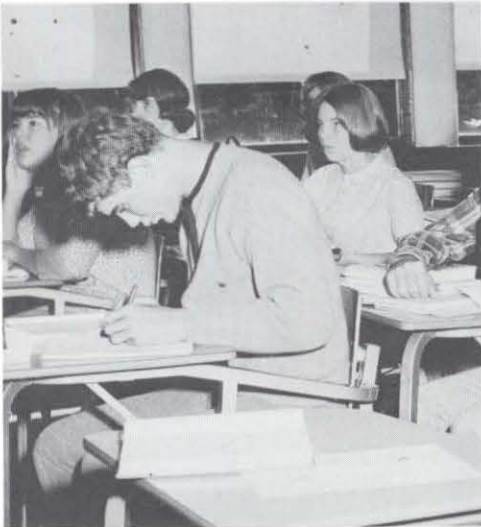

"There is no royal

Explaining the parts of a division problem is Diane Wrede. In Algebra I they study the parts of the different problems.

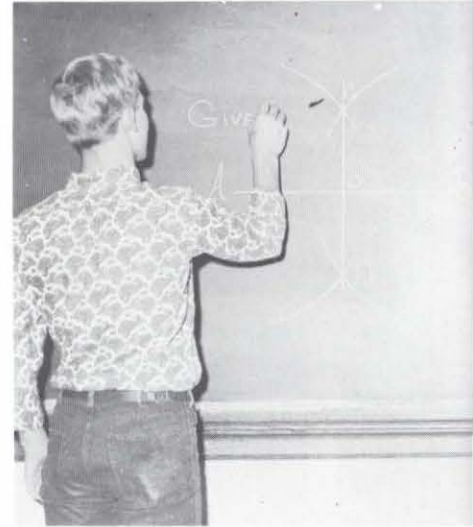

Pat Sanley and Dwayne Lanc are going through the procedure of one of their Algebra II problems.

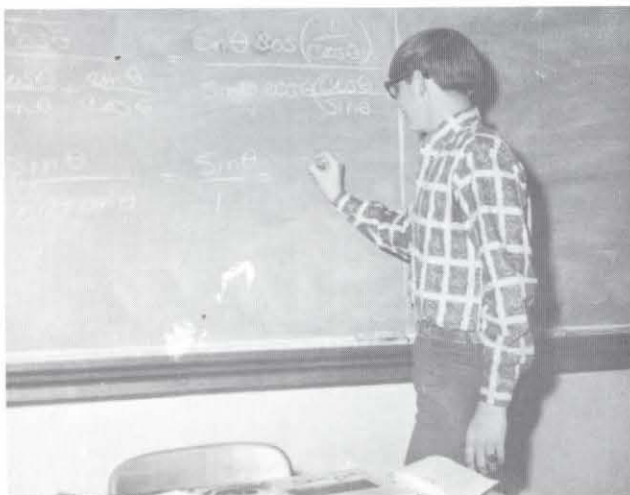

While checking their papers in Algebra II, the class listens while Mrs. Covault goes over some of the processes.

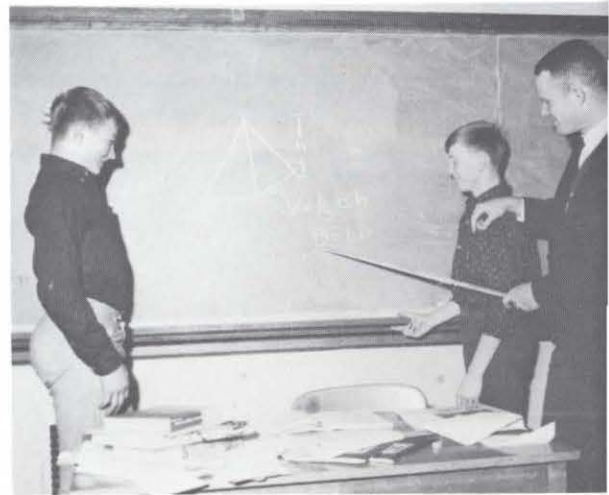

The math courses you take today will be used in your life wheather you realize it or not. Everytime you buy an article, measure a structure or even turn your TV dial you are using math. Mrs. Covault instructs the algebra, geometry, and advanced algebra classes.

Vic Pelan and Bruce Schmid are confused as Mr. Rundquist tries to explain one of the general math problems.

road to success."

Mr. Williamson tries to make the general science class understand their assignments through experiments and projects.

Jeannie Trowbridge is showing Linda Kinnsman the parts of their biology plastic tree.

Tom Forre and John Haney are sharing one of their chemistry aromas with the whole school.

In the science department, Mr. Williamson fascinates his students with his ability to explain the functions and structures of living, organic, chemical and inorganic substances. The students in Mr. Williamson's classes acquire a variety of learning experiences through labs, experiments, demonstrations, and research projects. Even though only one year of science is required for graduation, many students take more and find it very interesting and exciting.

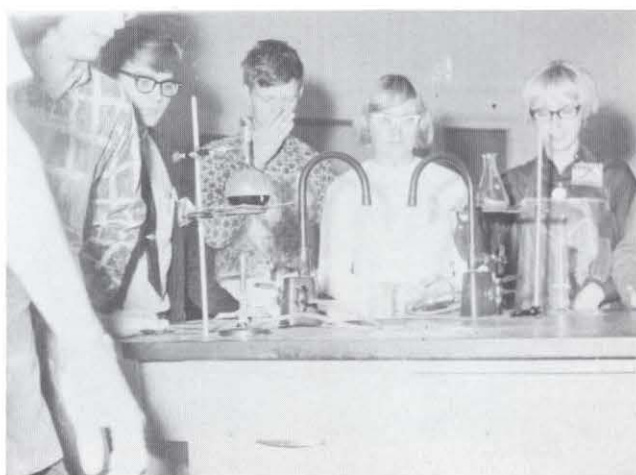

Mr. Rundquist is the physics instructor. In their classes they put math to use in every day life.

The physics class is actively answering questions asked by Mr. Rundquist.

The biology class is studying the intake of water into the roots of plants.

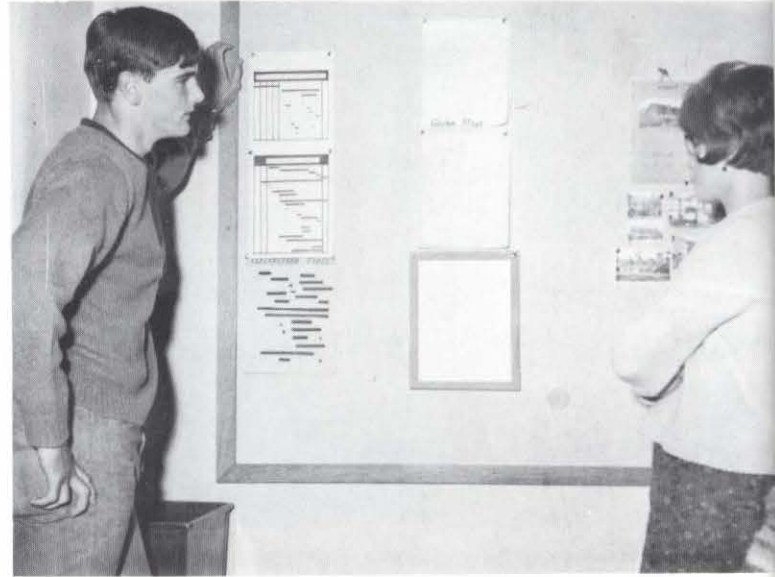

Waiting for some sort of a reaction in the lab, the chemistry class is learning about the elements by experiments.

"No man was ever

Even though English is used every day of our lives, there are many things we don't know about the language. Mrs. Johnson, Miss Danielson, and Mrs. Lawson are all trying to impress upon each student the importance of English to our lives. It is needed in any field or type of job you choose.

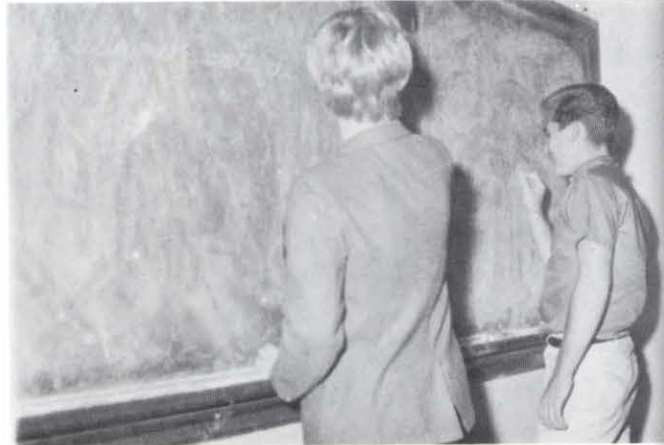

Spanish which is our only foreign language, is taught by Mr. Maret. The students learn all about the Spanish customs and ideas through films, reports, and research projects. The study of the Spanish language gives us a much wider view point of the world around us and the vast resource of knowledge that can be found in the language.

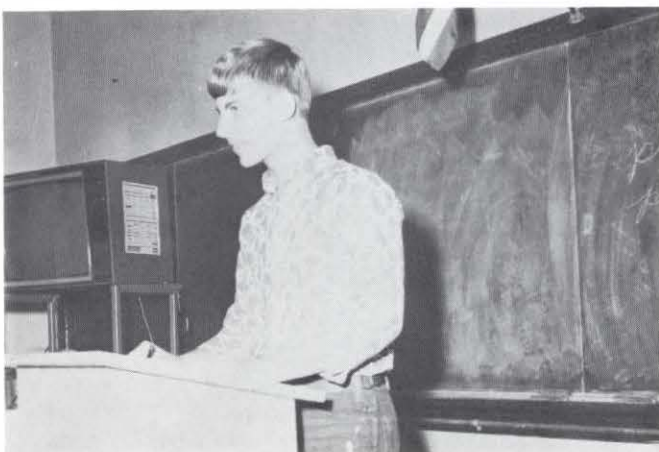

In English IV a complete study of English Literature was made. Gene Hookstra and Linda McDonald are studying the time lines they made for each century.

The junior English classes delved into the American writers and literary greats. Here they are reading short sections from one of their selections.

Debby Davis and Carroll Krivanek are at the board in Spanish, showing the class the correct way to write the days of the month.

Danny Baer is reading his book report to the Sophomore English class. During the year they are required to give a certain number of book reports.

Kristy Hendricks is busy writing out her assignment for her English I class. They do a lot of work with word and sentence structure.

Business minded students are greatly needed in today's fast moving business world. At DCHS Miss Bergstrom teaches the typing, steno, office practice and office machines classes. In the office practice and office machines classes the girls learn the fundamentals of being an efficient secretary and office employee. They gain experience working as helpers to the teachers and learn the various machine skills.

Kathy, Jacque, and Rosemary are taking one of the many tests given in Steno I.

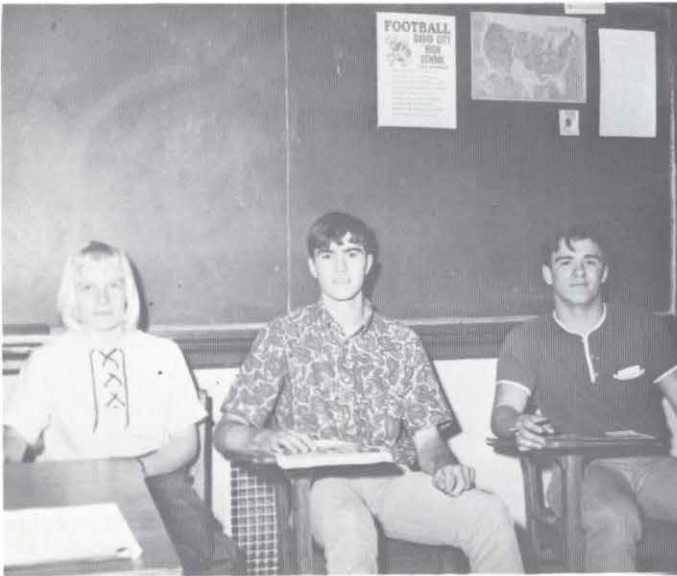

These Steno II girls seem to be deep in thought.

For office practice Veronica is helping type the students names on report cards.

Lu Jane is learning the uses of a dictaphone.

Leaders for discussing the American Observer are: Sue Rasmussen, Bill Tomek, and Dennis Houska.

Reports are given quite frequently in world geography each year. Marilyn Svoboda is giving one of these reports now.

Sociology takes much studying time to prepare for each day's lesson. Tom Spragg, Tom Forre, and Mike Benedict are diligently at work for their next lesson.

In our world, history is being made everyday. Mr. Penner, Mrs. Fadschild, and Mr. Maret add interest and variety to their world history, American history, world geography, and American government classes.

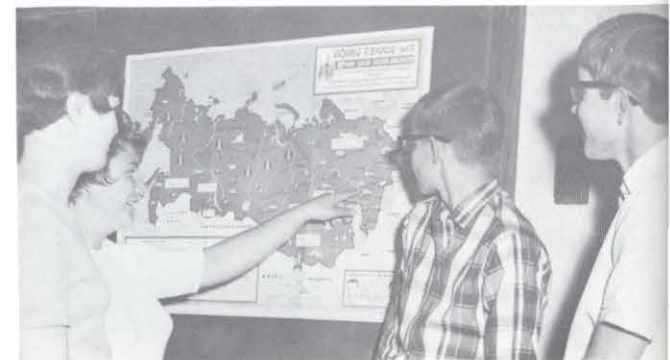

This year two new courses have been added to the social science department. They are economics, the study of the financial problems and matters in our country, and sociology, which deals with the social problems of our country. They get into very interesting discussions of the ways in which to solve these problems.

Listening to one of the many lectures the American history class receives is Dorothy Bonne, Mary Jane Klement, Marilyn Brdicko, and Nancy Dallegge.

The economics class uses the bulletin board much throughout the year to study the relationships of one quantity to another. Bob Hoeft, Marlene Focher, and Pat Adamy are looking at the spending graph.

Peggy Hauser, Debby Evans, Larry Schmid, and Ron Muntz are pointing out some of the trouble spots of the world in world history.

we may serve."

These two freshman are shown preparing frozen foods.

The Home Economics II class learn some of the fundamentals of interior decorating. Susan and Janice are studying their lesson for the day.

Jo Ann and Mary Ann are making centerpieces for some of the meals that they prepare.

At DCHS the opportunity of acquiring a vast knowledge of homemaking skills in the three years of home economics available is given to the freshmen, sophomore, and senior girls.

The freshmen study the principles of sewing, cooking child care, and first aid. During the sophomore year of homemaking the girls go into the more difficult area of sewing with wool, canning, food preparation, and they have a play school for watching the behavior of the children. The third year concentrates on the future with their studies of interior decoration, family living, family planning and family budgeting. These courses are a very worth while addition to each girls education.

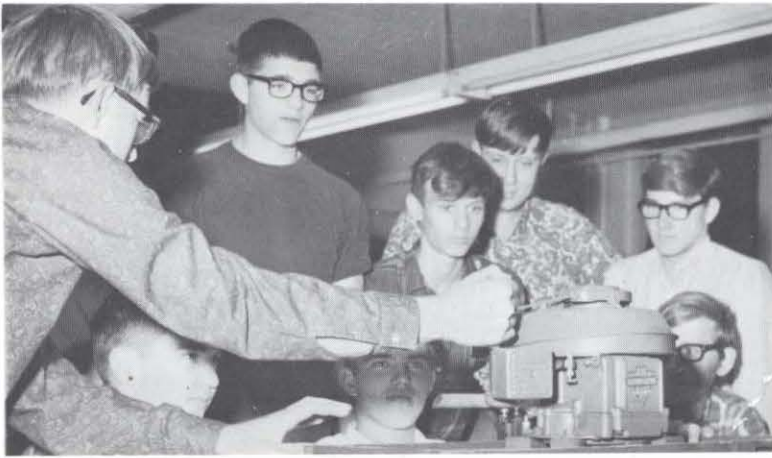

Sharon and Peggy are examining one of the many imaginative bulletin boards that Mrs. Ratzlaff makes.

Pat Svoboda is busily sewing on her suit that she is making in sophomore home economics. This year everyone in the class was required to make a type of suit or more difficult dress.

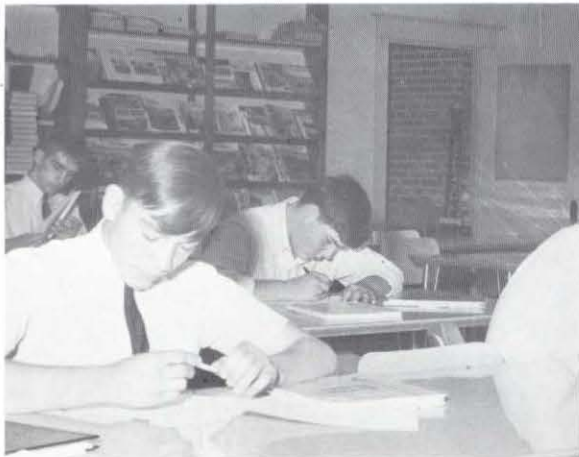

"Ability is a poor man's wealth."

In the third year of agriculture the boys get a good background in the field of mechanical repair.

The ag II boys are displaying their slow moving vehicle signs. The boys started a drive several years ago to get people to stop, now they are mandatory.

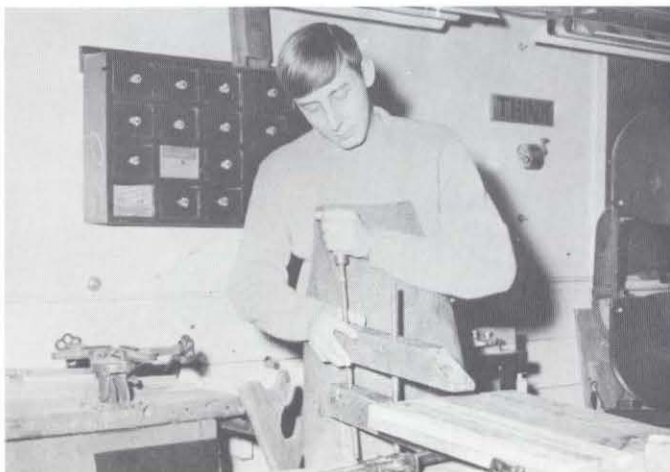

Pat Adamy and Waring Gilliland are working very hard on their off-farm tests.

Dennis Houska is figuring out the dimensions for his mechanical drawing plate.

In vocational agriculture, under the guidance of Mr. Longmore, the boys learn about proper animal care, soil conservation, and farm budgeting. The boys realize that they must have all of these skills to prepare for better farms in the years to come.

In shop I and shop II, which are taught by Mr. Faiman, the boys learn to work with wood. During the year each boy has different projects which gives them experience in working with the different materials. Mr. Faiman also teaches mechanical drawing. The class studies the drawing of articles and structures which gives the boys a good background for college work.

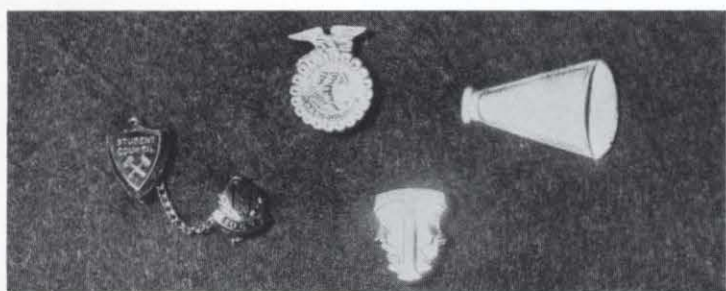

Steve Davis is diligently working on his shop II project. It looks pretty good so far Steve!

While evaluating his latest project, Ron Muntz finds the areas he will need to improve on in his next undertaking.

This year's Student Council is shown after decorating the Christmas tree for study hall. They are from left to right, back row: Dean Butterfield, Steve Mayfield, Dave Stara, Gene Hookstra, John Muntz, and Tom Davis. Second row: Mary Ann Fiala, Sue Rasmussen, Anne Trowbridge, and Donna Cooper. First row, seated: Cheri Pelan, Goldie Mach, Janice Smaus, and Nancy Vallegge.

Leading this year's Student Council were President, Gene Hookstra; Vice President, Anne Trowbridge; Secretary, Dave Stara; and Treasurer, Mary Ann Fiala.

This year the Student Council has been exceptionally active, working for the betterment of the school.

Their first semester party turned out to be a huge success. They featured a pie-eating contest, a kangaroo court, and the drawing for a live thanksgiving turkey as the door prize.

The annual yelling contest held alot more excitement and competition this year. The Student Council purchased a large traveling yell trophy that was presented to the winning class.

During the Christmas season the Student Council really got everyone into the spirit with their Christmas tree in study hall. They bought the tree, a whole new set of lights, and ornaments which were donated to the school.

For the last all school party the Student Council held an A-Go-Go Good Guy Dance with "HIM" from KLMS. It turned out to be a great success and everyone enjoyed the fun.

Part of the Student Council is enthusiastically cutting out shamrocks to put on posters for their St. Pat's Dance.

Aunt Jerusha and Uncle Billy are talking over the campaign in the junior class play "Oh Aunt Jerusha". Connie Barlean and Keith Hoshor were the leads.

The David City Chapter of Thespians now has one of the largest memberships of any other year. The members are eligible for membership after they have met the requirements of the Thespian constitution.

This year the senior class put on the play "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay". It was a light hearted comedy about two girls who went on an ocean voyage to France and the adventures they had. All the seniors had a lot of fun putting on their play.

"Oh, Aunt Jerusha" was chosen by the junior class for their play. One interesting thing about the production was that every member of the class had some part.

Also eligible for Thespains were the characters in the choir's production of "Annie Get Your Gun."

Their sponsor was Mrs. Ratzlaff.

The officers this year were JoAnn Buntgen, Parliamentarian; Marlene Focher, Secretary; Mary Ann Fiala, President; Betty Buresh, Vice-President; Judy Proskovec, Treasurer; Janice Smaus, Publicity Chairman; Pat Hoshor, Historian; Sharon Krenk, Degree Chairman; Pat Svoboda, Recreation Chairman; and Shirley Cemper, Song Leader.

Our FHA Chapter has been very active this year. Some of their projects have been a consideration week, keep America beautiful, FHA week, Mothers' Christmas Tea, FHA-FFA caroling party, and the annual FFA-FHA coronation. The girls all work together to make each and every one of their undertakings a complete success. This year Mrs. Ratzlaff sponsored the school's chapter. She gave the organizations many new and interesting ideas for improvement.

Keith Hoshor and Marcia Schmit were crowned Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus at the caroling party.

The Future Farmers of America have worked at a steady pace this year completing their various projects. Our FFA chapter is one to be very proud of, because of its outstanding performance at all of their competitive events. Mr. Longmore's guidance contributed much to the groups success.

The seniors are Tom Jones, Frank Bohaty, LaVerne Krivanek, Pat Adamy, John Haney, LeRoy McDonald, Delmar Newsom, and Robert Fisher.

The FFA officers are Frank Bohaty, president; Tom Jones, vice-president; LaVerne Krivanek, secretary; John Frohner, treasurer; Keith Hoshor, reporter; and Larry Aldrich, sentinel.

At the FFA-FHA coronation Mary Ann Fiala and Frank Bohaty were crowned "Sweetheart" and "King". The theme of the party was "Be My Valentine".

"Be sure you're right, then go ahead."

These librarians have worked very hard this year keeping the library neat and orderly for all the students to use.

At the end of the semester, Mr. Sterner gave his boys' P.E. class test over all the rules and procedures of the sports they had been studying.

This year Trowbridge Motors furnished the school with two drivers' education cars. They were used in the driving part of the class.

During the year the drivers' ed. classes see many films on the importance of safe driving on today's roads and highways.

Library, drivers' education, and physical education classes are some of the extra activities that are offered to the students of D.C.H.S. These help to make their high school days filled with not only academic, but physical and creative courses. They round out the students weekly schedules.

In girls' phys. ed., bowling was taken up for part of a term as one of their sports.

All the students enjoy the pleasant surroundings of the library under the supervision of our librarian, Miss Root. This gives everyone a chance for quiet reading and studying.

This year David City High School has been very proud of their '66 Football Squad. Under the coaching of John Faiman and Gene Hruza, the Scouts marched onward to a victorious season of eight wins and only one loss. During the season DCHS was rated as the number one Class B team in the state. They ended up with the rating of number four of which we are all very proud.

This is the toughest part of every game, to watch.

Number (21) Gene Hookstra broke the school record of yards made during the season with a total of 1032 yards.
