WHERE THE DIRTROADENDS

HERE DENDS

Our theme this year is "Where the Dirt Road Ends". We felt that as we go through high school our lives follow some type of road. Our very own Dual State Champion trophies in class C2 wrestling, State Champs in Speech, and individual State Qualifiers along the way in other activities. Some take a different detour in life and it takes us away from DCHS, but we will all leave our own footprints in the dirt. The dirt road ends here but a new one begins to the highway of life before us.

Homecoming is a great way to show school pride and bring a little fun into normal school days. The theme this year for Homecoming was Under the Sea.

Teachers and students come together to show-off school spirit. They choose to do this through a pep-rally and by participating in dress-up days.

This years Homecoming football game was against West Point.

Softball

With a team of 20 girls, four being from David City, the softball team has come a long way this year. The David City softball team consists of four girls, freshmen Kennedy Hecker at second base and Kaylyn Dubbs at first base, sophomore Lauren Styskal at shortstop, and senior Rachel Fuxa at first base. The softball team faced many ups and downs this year, including playing in the championship game at Wisner-Pilger, but also many player's facing injuries throughout the season. Nevertheless, the softball team accomplished several goals and had a great season with coaches Jahde and Lentz.

Goals for this season were wanting to win every game and make the playoffs, but also they had smaller goals for the season.

This seasons record was 2-6.

They had a number of strong players this year, but the running backs really shined towards the end of the year.

Right: Volleyball game has their third annual PINK OUT game to support Breast Cancer Awareness. Here, the team comes together before their game to throw around positive energy before they start the game.

This year the volleyball team consisted of 18 girls: two seniors, Cora N, and Corinn O., two juniors, Megan F., and Meredith W., eleven sophomores, Ruth B., Abby E., Jesse G., Macy G., Morgan H., Natalie K., Sabra M., Katie R., Morgan R., Hannah V., and Dahlia V., along with four freshman Brandy B, Amber B., Rebecca M., and Iris P. The team has given some incite on how they think the season went.

All together, the team agreed a lot about how the season went and what they enjoyed the best. Sophomore Hannah Veskrna said, "We had great chemistry and I don't think there was ever drama." Morgan Ruth also said, "I think we were really close and got closer during the season." The whole Varsity team could agree that Tri County was their favorite game. The Lady Scouts went 5 sets that game, and came home with the win! They won the first two sets, losing the third and fourth, and winning the fifth set! The ladies were ecstatic! So excited that the Varsity team took a picture together and hung it up in the locker room to remember the feeling of how winning that game felt, and to strive for that feeling again with all their other games. Ruth Behrns commented how she was proud of the team for sticking together during the game and playing as a team. But all in all, the most memorable part of winning that game was how Coach Grosc reacted, Jesse Grotelueschen says she remembers best from that game how coach practically tackled the team after winning the fifth set.

Even though the season might not have gone as well as the ladies had hoped for, memories were made and friendships were created. They'll always remember the bus rides, singing together, burping contest, and laughing until they cried.

NO FEAR, KNOW VICTORY!

Coach Couch

Team record was 9-14.
Raymond Central was a huge win for the Scouts, Raymond fell apart and they were able to get the win.

Malcolm was an exciting win with 3 overtimes, it was a really fun game.
Just like the Raymond game there were many times they could have collapsed but they were preserved.

The teams goal for this year was to be playing their best at the the end of the season. Their goal was to stay positive and focused, staying committed with each other, and to trust the plan.

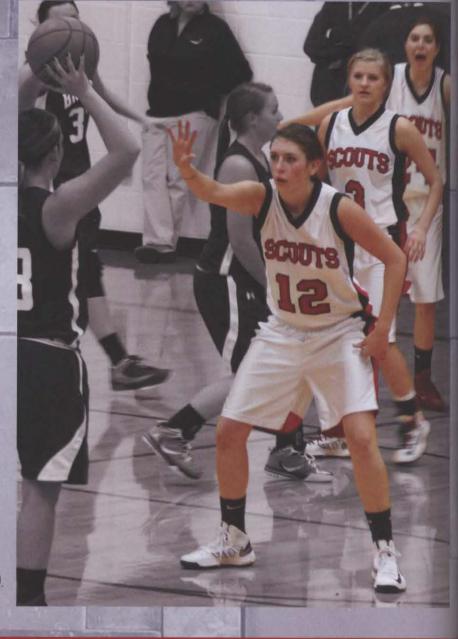

Girls Basketball

Sophomore Angelica F. contests the opponent's pass and freshman Kaylyn D. applies pressure on our home court.

Right: Juniors Megan F., Hope R. and Senior Corinn O. are communicating on defense.

What were your goals as captains?

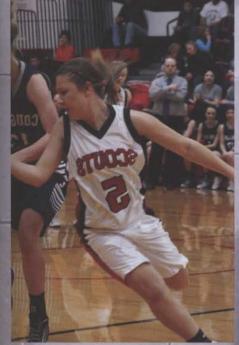

My goal was to be a leader and keep everyone's work ethic to its best. I wanted to keep everyone motivated to work their hordest and give 110% everyday. I wanted to be there when they needed advice or questions about a play to make them a better athlete.

My goal was to be a leader on and of the court. I tried to focus on getting everyone to work hard to become all that we could be. I like to lead by example and be an asset to the team more ways than just being out on the court, but having relationships with a teammates.

Gotta have that PMA!

Since the beginning of the season, athletes had the goal to continue to improve throughout the season by working on the basics and doing things consistently. Setback and injuries haven't stopped these athletes from competing their hardest at each and every meet.

One thing the team excels on is competing hard to win their event. But, unfortunately, not every team is perfect. And one thing the DCHS track teams need is more people out.

Throwing coach Amp Ferg quotes that, "The results you can achieve by going out for track... you can't measure them. Some kids realize that and other kids don't realize that. We need more people out, and we'll have a better chance of being successful."

Many key highlights occurred during this track season. Whether it be the boys 4x8 relay team improving their time by 14 seconds at Conference, senior Corinn Otte consistently placing in her long distance running events, or even that one not-so-out-there track athlete who's finally getting recognized... the track team has made memories on and off the track and field that they'll never forget.

Amp Ferg also quotes that, "Track is a really good sport to develop your athletic skills for other sports. And more people need to realize that." Ferg, along with the other coaches, all encourage students to go out for track as it would help the teams get on the right path towards success. Although, the season ended short after Districts, the track team still kept their heads high as they can now wait and prepare for next year. The track team has a great season and made many memories along the way.

And don't forget, you gotta have that PMA!

The Hungry Games

If I were to ask anyone at DCHS what type of play Ockander would present to his One-Act cast, I can guess that 100% of you would say serious. I can see where you would get this. Over the years, we have done our fair share of serious plays. This year we took on quite a turn. David City One-Act presents: The Hungry Games. This side of the Hunger Games took the school by surprise, as we threw ourselves into this play like we always do to succeed. We succeeded with our 3rd consecutive Conference Championship. The team later traveled to Seward for the 2013 District competition only to fall short taking Runner-Up for the 3rd year in a row. No school in the state can say that. The work put into this play was amazing, and the seniors couldn't be more proud of the hard work that was put into this play. Through this season, we became more than friends. We became family.

Physical Education

37 years of education later, Mr. Doug Hookie is retiring from DCHS. Mr. Hookie wanted to be a PE teacher because of some of the teachers he used to have. "I wasn't a very good athlete," he quotes. "And I was the big heavy kid in class and Iteachers] always made sure I had an opportunity to participate. So I wanted to give the same opportunity to the other kids." Before DCHS, Mr. Hookie was at Broken Bow for 10 years as a social studies and PE teacher. Mr. Hookie quit social studies so he could teach PE full time. In college, Mr. Hookie had a double major in Physical Education/Health and a minor in social studies. Mr. Hookie enjoyed teaching PE more, though, he said. After his retirement, Mr. Hookie still plans on keeping himself busy by working part time at the Wellness Center, continuing his snow removal business in the winter, still officiating at varsity football games on Friday nights, and hopefully starting a lawn mowing business this summer. Although work may still be tight on Mr. Hookie's schedule, he says his number one goal is to spend more time with his grandkids. Mr. Hookie says he will miss the kids at DCHS the most, saying how fun they are and how much he enjoys being around them. He also adds he tried to treat all kids fairly and give everyone the opportunity to succeed.
